Introduction

New Oxford Modern English (NOME) is a complete English course and is currently used all over Pakistan, in the Middle East, and in other South Asian countries.

It is hoped that this new edition will satisfy the demands of pupils, teachers, and parents—not an easy task, by any means—and that the teaching and learning of English will become an enjoyable and worthwhile experience for the user.

For pupils, we have produced books and materials to capture the imagination and make lessons a pleasure rather than an imposition. The core materials—the student books and workbooks—are full of lively reading passages, attractive illustrations, and interesting, thought-provoking exercises. The books have been graded and structured in such a way that much self-learning can be done.

For teachers, the core materials will make their task of teaching English much easier. We hope that teachers will take the time to go through this Guide in detail. It will explain why things are done in a particular way and how best to use the core materials. The Teaching Guide contains detailed notes and information about each page of the textbook and workbook, suggestions for various activities in class, lists of structures and vocabulary, and much more.

Parents will appreciate that their children are being given the opportunity to learn English using the best tools available. Learning English, however, should not be confined solely to the classroom. Parents may take an active part in helping their children to learn by providing encouragement, and a peaceful and attractive environment at home. Hopefully, parents will provide their children with good supplementary books and magazines to read, discuss school work, and speak in English whenever possible.

1. Components of the course

The Student Books

The Student Books provide a base or springboard from which to operate. The books are carefully graded and structured. By stages, they introduce the pupil to the letters of the alphabet, simple words, sentences, paragraphs, stories, poems, writing of all kinds (descriptive, dramatic, narrative), and a whole range of ideas.

The Student Books present the pupil with graded material incorporating reading matter followed by exercises. The reading scheme has been especially designed so that a number of different approaches are utilized. The emphasis in the early Student Books is on phonics, although some words, due to the very nature of English, fall into the ‘whole word’ or ‘look-and-say’ category.

Of the various methods of teaching reading, it has been shown that a blend of phonics and the ‘look-and-say’ methods is the most satisfactory. Some words in English lend themselves to the phonic approach and can be broken up into their constituent parts. We can do this by pronouncing the individual phonic sounds that make up the whole word. Such words are usually simple, single-syllabic words, such as cat, hit, let, and bun. Many words cannot be broken up into their constituent parts by applying phonic rules. For example, words such as the, is, this, and of must be learnt as ‘look-and-say’ words. Trying to break such words up into separate phonic sounds will only lead to confusion.
Many such words are used frequently in English and are important because not many sentences can be constructed without using some of them! The introduction of such words, then, cannot be left till a later stage when the pupil arrives at the appropriate phonic level. They must be introduced earlier on as ‘look-and-say’ words. An approach that is strictly and exclusively phonic tends to lead to stilted and forced language. In addition, such an exclusive approach may confuse the pupil when he is faced with words that do not conform to a pattern that has been introduced and learnt. For example, if the pupil is taught that the letter c produces the sound ‘kuh’ (cat, cub), what is he/she then going to make of the words city and ice? The pupil cannot apply any previously learnt ‘rules’ in order to decipher these new words or tackle reading material independent of the teacher’s assistance. This is why, in the early textbooks, there is a blend of two approaches: phonic and ‘look-and-say’.

In Student Book Primer A, considerable emphasis has been placed on oral activities before reading. This is a direct attempt to encourage teachers to spend more time ‘using the language actively’. Generally, too much time is devoted to silent (reading and writing) activities in class—meaning and understanding can only come through activity and practical usage, especially in the early years.

In Primer B, the second Student Book, the pupils are introduced to many new words, using both phonics and ‘look-and-say’. The pupils are also introduced to whole sentences which incorporate controlled structures.

From Student Book 1 onwards, the books contain language which again is controlled; the structures are graded and the books contain appropriate vocabulary, stories, and poems, followed by varied exercises to develop all the necessary skills.

Speaking and Listening before Reading

Reading is a complex activity requiring considerable skills. It is essential that before pupils begin to learn how to read, they gain as much facility as possible in the skill of speaking. They must also be given the opportunity to listen to the words of the language being spoken. The pupil must first learn that the object with which he writes is called a pen or pencil, the object he throws up in the air is a ball, and when he is moving forward quickly he is running. The pupil may be familiar with these words in the mother tongue, but not in English. First, the learner of English must familiarize himself with the words of the language through practical activities and concrete examples. He must get used to a whole new vocabulary, new structures, and an entirely different way of pronouncing words.

In many schools all over the country, teachers begin the teaching of English by introducing reading and writing (the alphabet) before they have given the pupils a chance to explore and acquire some skill in using the spoken language. Pupils must be given this opportunity if they are to make some sense of what they are doing. By making these exercises a part of the Student Book, it is hoped that teachers will realize how important it is for pupils to practise speaking before learning to read. (For a more detailed account of pre-reading activities, please see the relevant chapter later in this Guide.)

The textual matter and exercises in the Student Books offer much scope for oral work, and it is recommended that pupils be given every opportunity to discuss the text and the pictures, and be encouraged to read aloud to improve their pronunciation.
The Workbooks

The Workbooks are closely related to the Student Books. The oral and reading exercises in the Student Books should be followed immediately afterwards by oral and written exercises in the Workbook. Each page of the Student Book consists of oral work followed by some reading. Similarly, each page of the Workbook entails oral work followed by some kind of written work.

In the Primers, much of the written work consists of writing letters and words. Naturally, this means that pupils also have to read. But remember, writing is an even more complicated activity than reading. It involves eye-and-hand coordination, motor control, and much more. Because pupils find writing a laborious activity, the exercises that are introduced in the Workbook are varied. The pupils are not expected to write letters and words all the time, but have been given ample scope to draw, colour, match, copy, and join lines and boxes. Further writing activities based on the exercises in the Student Book and Workbook will greatly benefit the pupils and help to develop their reading and writing skills. Suggestions for such activities are contained in the detailed notes, but it is up to the teacher to decide whether or not such additional work is necessary.

The Workbooks which correspond to the later Student Books contain exercises which are closely related to the topic(s) covered in the Student Book. In some instances, however, a new topic (concerning the use of special vocabulary or structure or activity) is introduced in order to cover as much ground as possible. Full instructions are given, with examples, so that the teacher or pupil should have little difficulty in understanding what has to be done.

Supplementary Learning Materials

In the early stages, it is essential that the teacher develops, produces, and makes a collection of all kinds of supplementary materials in order to aid learning. The books in the series can only serve as a base from which to work, and it is the teacher’s job to reinforce this work with appropriate exercises, materials, ideas, worksheets, games, and above all, efforts to try and create the proper atmosphere and environment in which real progress can be made. Supplementary materials include charts, worksheets, flash cards (words, pictures, sentences), matching cards, games, and various pieces of apparatus involving the manipulation of letters or words in order to help pupils learn how to spell or how to use a structure. All these items will help pupils to revise and reinforce what has been learnt in the textbooks. They offer great scope for the teacher to approach certain lessons from an entirely different angle and will help to occupy the pupils’ time constructively. Slow learners as well as those who are quicker can benefit greatly from using these materials.

In the later stages, the use of additional learning materials may not be felt to be so necessary for every pupil in the class. However, there will be instances when you will find that certain pupils need extra help or additional practice in order to understand a particular lesson. It is here that supplementary learning materials can be most useful. Many learning materials and games are already available. It is hoped that some materials may be developed as part of this learning package. Many of the materials can easily be made, quite inexpensively, by teachers themselves. For a list of materials and how to make and use them in class, please see the Teaching Guide for the Primers A and B.

In addition to the above-mentioned supplementary materials, rhymes, poems, and songs are an important part of speech and ear training. The detailed notes for Primers A and B suggest where you might introduce various rhymes during the course of the year. Teachers should ask the pupils to listen to the rhymes and teach them the words so that the rhymes can be learnt and repeated. Obviously, learning these rhymes will take time but this will be time well spent.
2. Teaching English

The Pupils
Before you start using the books and materials of this English course, here are some important points to consider about each of your pupils.

• What is the background of the pupil?
• Is English spoken at home on a regular basis?
• Is the pupil a second-generation learner? (Have the parents received some kind of education?)
• Does the pupil come from a home where books and magazines are available and where the other members of the family read?
• Does the pupil come from a home where there are educational toys, a radio, TV, newspapers?
• Does the pupil have any difficulty related to sight, speech, or hearing?

These are only some of the questions you might ask about your pupils. Your answers will determine where you have to start, what pace to go at, and what work must be done in order to get the best out of your pupils. Here are some constructive steps you can take in order to teach English more effectively at the primary level.

Using the Teaching Guide
This course is a complete learning package and the intention of this Guide is to help you to use the package effectively. There is a Teaching Guide for each level and each will provide many ideas that can be used and developed throughout the course. Please be sure to read the detailed notes and teaching suggestions in the Guide.

Using the Student Books and Workbooks
The books have been especially designed for pupils from a Pakistani background. They try to bridge or, to some extent, narrow the gap between complete beginners, those whose mother tongue is not English and who do not speak any English at home, and those whose home environment involves the use of a considerable amount of English. As all pupils do not learn at the same speed and some topics or structures are more difficult to grasp than others, it may be necessary for the teacher to backtrack, revise, spend a longer time over certain stages, or even skip out or race through certain exercises where necessary. The teacher should feel free to adapt and amend and not stick too closely to all the suggestions made in this guide, if that is going to restrict his/her teaching in any way. For example, if time is limited, the first set of comprehension questions in most exercises may be answered orally—only selected questions may be given for written work.

Using Materials
Use as many materials as possible. If your pupils do not have reading and writing materials at home, you should try to provide them in class. As mentioned above, textbooks are useful tools but they are not the only materials you should use. Supplementary reading materials, charts, wall displays utilizing pupils’ written work and drawings, flash cards of various kinds, and games, all support the learning process.

By using and displaying materials, your pupils will have plenty to look at, think about, and talk about. Fast learners will reinforce what they have learnt, and slow learners will have the opportunity to approach the same topic from a different angle.
Do create a small library of supplementary reading materials within the classroom. The textual matter in the Student Book is limited; it is not sufficient to develop the habit and love of reading.

Planning

With careful planning, you can vary your lessons, allocate sufficient time to every aspect of learning English, and introduce new and interesting ideas and activities which will make your classes lively and interesting. The Teaching Guide will prove an invaluable tool in this process. Sample lesson plans have also been included at the end of each unit in each Guide. It is not necessary to follow them rigidly. Vary them for interest according to your requirements.

Activity

Make sure that your lessons are active. Varied activities will help to generate enthusiasm and enjoyment in the classroom. Boredom will not be an issue if you introduce varied, interesting activities.

Dynamism

Make sure that all your lessons are dynamic. It is only if you are enthusiastic and dynamic that you can inspire your pupils to put in their best efforts, work hard, and learn something. If you are dull and sound bored by the whole process, your lack of enthusiasm will transfer to the pupils. Their lack of enthusiasm will make your task more tedious.

Atmosphere

Try to create an atmosphere in class that is conducive to learning. This may be done on two levels—the physical and the psychological. To improve the physical atmosphere, make sure your classroom is an interesting place in which to be. Desks arranged in rows and nothing but bare walls will not help. Make your classroom exciting and attractive, full of interesting things.

On the psychological level, try to create an atmosphere in which pupils are not fearful or intimidated. If the work is interesting and stimulating and the atmosphere is relaxed and peaceful, much more can be accomplished.

Speaking in English

Make sure you use English at all times in the English class. Do not use the pupils’ mother tongue to explain meanings or to give instructions. Understanding will only come through constant and open dialogue in the classroom, between the teacher and the pupils. Use English naturally and whenever possible, and expect the pupils to use it too. You will be surprised how quickly and easily incidental language is picked up by the pupils.

3. Pre-reading

Time spent on pre-reading activities will greatly benefit the potential reader, so do not rush this stage. The exercises and suggestions here should be followed in the first few weeks of school and should be continued with even after work in the textbook has begun.

Listening and Speaking skills

These skills relate directly to the pupil’s ability to listen to, decode, and understand words and sentences spoken in English, and the ability to repeat or utter words, phrases, and sentences in a meaningful and clear manner.
Points to consider:

- Can the pupil hear sounds properly? (Is his/her hearing impaired in any way?)
- Can the pupil tell from which source a particular sound is emanating? (Show the pupil pictures—a horn, a bell, a drum—and listen to a recording of these sounds.)
- Can the pupil distinguish between one sound and another heard at the same time? (Clapping and instrumental music; baby crying and person singing; a number of musical instruments being played at the same time.)
- Can the pupil distinguish between loud and soft sounds?
- Can the pupil understand simple instructions?
- Can the pupil repeat simple words, phrases, rhymes?
- Can the pupil repeat simple stories in his/her own words?
- Does the pupil come from a background where English is spoken frequently?

You can organize activities in class which will greatly help the pupils not only to hear sounds, but to listen to sounds with concentration and understanding. For such exercises, a CD player will prove useful.

Here are some activities to develop listening and speaking skills.

1. Talk about objects and events, naturally and as often as possible.
2. Give the pupils the opportunity to speak English whenever possible. Listen attentively to what they have to say and encourage them to speak by asking questions.
3. Use English all the time; try not to use the mother tongue. If the pupil is from a non English-speaking background, he/she will need to hear English spoken quite often.
4. Give clear instructions at all times; pronounce all your words properly (as best of your ability).
5. Tell stories, recite poems, sing songs, and get the pupils to learn these and repeat them. Encourage the pupils to learn some tongue-twisters. (Very often pupils repeat or recite rhymes and poems at the top of their voice; there is no need for this! Teach them to speak and sing in a natural way.)
6. Play various games which involve the use of listening or speaking skills. (‘I-spy’, finding rhyming words, making up stories, guessing games, miming and describing actions, etc.)
7. Use a CD player to play music and songs to the pupils.
8. Use a tape recorder to record and play back the pupils’ own voices.
9. Provide pictures and books for pupils to look at so that these can act as a stimulus for conversation.

English is spoken all over the world so there are many different accents. It is not essential that English should be spoken in one particular accent. As long as the speaker's utterances are easily understood by anyone listening, the ‘accent’ is not important. Obviously care must be taken to pronounce words in the correct way, otherwise the meaning may not be clear. For example, there is a considerable difference in the meaning of the words cheap, chip, and ship. The use of ch for sh, or a long vowel sound for a short one, may cause confusion, unless the context is absolutely clear.
Here are some words and sounds that might cause confusion if they are not pronounced properly:

- bag/beg/back
- chip/cheap
- sheep/ship
- boat/both
- feel/fill
- sleep/slip
- pole/foal
- vain/wane
- day/they
- put/foot

- rode/wrote
- vary/wary
- vent/went
- will/wheel
- ask/axe
- vet/wet
- eat/heat/hit
- necks/next
- shoe/chew
- part/pot

- ear/year
- heard/hard
- are/or
- pot/part
- lose/loose
- ee/she
- sue/shoe
- so/show
- sue/shoe
- his/is
- heart/hot

There are many other confusing pairs of words. Concentrate on the clear pronunciation of all consonants, consonant blends, and vowel sounds. Distinguish especially between long vowel sounds and short ones. When in doubt about the proper pronunciation of a word, consult a good dictionary. A good dictionary will also tell you where to put the stress or accent in a word.

Visual Skills

This skill relates directly to the pupil's ability to recognize, decode, and understand words and sentences written in English.

Points to consider:

- Can the pupil see properly? (Is his/her sight impaired in any way?)
- Can the pupil distinguish between one colour and another?
- Can the pupil already read letters/words in another language?
- Can the pupil recognize writing (as opposed to pictures)?
- Does the pupil come from a home in which books, magazines, and other reading/picture materials are available?
- Can the pupil recognize and understand simple visual symbols? (e.g. an arrow, indicating direction.)

Prior to reading, it is essential that pupils are given the opportunity to develop certain visual skills which will make the task of 'real reading' much simpler for them later on.

Bare classroom walls will in no way help the pupils to develop visual skills! Make sure your classroom walls are always covered in interesting pictures, words, and sentences. Replace the materials often, in order to maintain the pupils' interest.

Visual skills consist of matching, sorting, orientation, discrimination, sequencing, completion, and recall. Refer to the Teaching Guide for Primers A and B for further details.
Motor Skills
These skills relate directly to the pupil’s ability to combine sight and muscular control in order to use a pencil or other implement to draw or write words and sentences accurately.

Points to consider:

• Does the pupil have any physical defect which makes writing difficult?
• Does the pupil come from a home where others write, and where writing materials (pens, pencils, colours, paper) are readily available?
• Is the pupil more comfortable using the right hand or left hand, when writing (or drawing, or doing other tasks)?
• Can the pupil write any words in another language?

There are many activities that can greatly help hand-and-eye coordination. Some of these include the threading of beads, colouring, drawing, tracing, drawing around shapes (or templates), cutting out shapes or pictures with a pair of scissors, playing games (throwing dice, moving counters, holding cards, rolling marbles, using tiddlywinks, etc.), pasting pictures in a scrapbook, doing jigsaw puzzles, using a needle and thread to make samplers (sewing), copying pictures, painting, completing dot-to-dot pictures, doing mazes, constructing simple structures from a variety of materials (card, paper, cotton reels, sticks, string, matchboxes, etc.), and modelling with clay or play dough.

Remember that before the pupil begins to write letters and words, he/she should have heard the word spoken, said the word and used it in a meaningful way in a sentence, and read the word, either on its own or in a sentence. At the pre-reading stage, however, activities may incorporate the use of many skills at one time.

Many of the motor-skill activities are contained in the Workbook, but due to certain constraints (mainly of space available) they have been limited. Teachers should provide the pupils with ample opportunity to develop these skills even after work in the textbook has been started. Use lots of craft activities to develop hand-and-eye coordination. Remember that all the skills described above can be developed across the curriculum: don’t confine the use of English to the English period alone!

4. Reading
The early preparation for reading has already been outlined in the chapter entitled Pre-reading.

In order to become a reader, the pupil must be aware of shapes, be able to recall stories and poems, and have a considerably wide vocabulary in English. Above all, the pupil must be sufficiently motivated and must want to read. Forcing someone to read, especially when the person is not ready to read or finds the task difficult, may only put off the potential reader.

The potential reader must be given opportunities to develop pre-reading skills and must be encouraged to read. Encouragement may be given in a number of ways. First, provide the pupil with books to read. These may be picture books with very few or no words in them. If you provide the pupils with books and read stories to them, you will show them that books are useful and interesting, and that they are worth reading.

Build up a collection of books in the classroom. Some books may disappear or be spoilt, but if they do not exist in the first place, the pupils will never learn how to use them or handle them with care. Remember that reading with fluency, accuracy, enjoyment, and understanding cannot be achieved by reading one textbook. The skill of reading and an interest in reading can only be developed properly by allowing the reader to read and enjoy a number of books.
The vocabulary and structures used in the Student Books are carefully controlled and graded. If the Student Books are used in conjunction with supplementary readers and other reading books provided by the teacher, the pupils should have no difficulty in learning to read. With the phonic skills learnt in Primers A and B, the pupils should be able to tackle new material with ease. However, some pupils may experience certain difficulties in reading.

The reading checklist contains items that cover the first few years of reading.

21. Anticipation of words, tenses, phrases, outcomes Plurals (was/were) Pairs (Hot and ....)
   Tenses (has/had)

22. Reading aloud Reads smoothly with expression, inflexions, and stress. Awareness of punctuation. Varies speed.

23. Referencing skills Uses a dictionary, index, contents page, glossary.

24. Reading strategies and comprehension
   Silent reading. Skims for outline. Scans to locate specific information. Studies factual information critically. Integrates information from different sources. Understands literal content. Uses inference to extend understanding. Integrates information and personal knowledge for further understanding.

In order to keep a record of your pupils’ progress, you might like to tabulate the information and keep a record sheet for each pupil.

5. Writing

Writing is a laborious activity for the pupil; it is not a natural activity. Writing involves many skills: the pupil must first be able to recognize that certain shapes form letters, and that these letters represent particular sounds; when the letters are put together they form words, pronounced in a particular way; these words have meaning.

Only when the pupil has made some headway in oral work and in reading should he/she be encouraged to write. ‘Writing’, prior to this stage, should involve the use of implements to draw, colour, scribble, make shapes, and copy in order to develop fine motor skills and eye-hand coordination.

Writing requires strong motivation and a great deal of practice on the part of the pupil. So, do not expect too much at first. The teacher should try to make the activity as exciting and attractive as possible, and offer lots of encouragement. The writing of endless lists of words will not help to enthuse the pupils or make them want to write more than is absolutely necessary. Varied activities and tasks, which include drawing as well as writing, should help to motivate the pupils.

Remember to write clearly yourself and do not join letters when writing on the blackboard. If you do not take care to write neatly, your pupils cannot be expected to write neatly either!

The Workbooks are designed to give pupils the opportunity to develop their writing skills. But, due to limitations of space, further writing tasks should be set by the teacher. The section entitled Supplementary Learning Materials and suggestions and answers contain suggestions for further writing activities.

It is a good idea to supply each pupil with a copywriting (handwriting) book as well as a notebook for writing practice. There are a number of good copywriting books available. Make sure that the one you use is compatible with the Student Book and Workbook of this series. For example, it is no use supplying the pupils with a copywriting book that introduces capital letters before lower-case letters!

Make sure that writing is always neat and that each letter is formed in the correct way from the start. Undoing a bad habit can take a long time so make sure from the very start that the letters are written properly. Later, the pupils should take care to produce work that is not only legible, but grammatically and structurally correct. Where necessary, point out mistakes made in spelling and punctuation, but do this with care. If a pupil produces work that is full of mistakes, covering the page with corrections in red ink may discourage the pupil. Correct serious mistakes, but also take note of the other mistakes being made and plan a course of remedial action.

Give pupils the opportunity and encouragement to try and write creatively. Quite often, exercises based on work in the Student Books do not allow much scope for creativity or imagination. In many instances, however, this is possible if you use your own judgement and good sense to alter, adapt or improve on exercises that have been set. Creative writing does not mean that pupils should abandon the rules of writing correct English. Creativity can come from the use of original ideas put in a novel way, but which also observe all the prescribed rules of good grammar and syntax.

Remember that pupils like to have their work appreciated and admired. Ensure that the work of each pupil, at some stage during the year, is displayed for all to see. If a pupil produces a particularly good piece of writing, correct it, get the pupil to rewrite it neatly and perhaps illustrate it. You can then mount it and display it on a board in the classroom. Change the works on displays regularly so that the display board becomes a constant source of attraction and inspiration.
6. Structures

Lists of structures are given in the Contents’ list for each book. Structures are presented in a graded manner throughout the series. These are introduced at an appropriate level and then revised at a later stage, in the same book or perhaps in the next.

Teachers should be aware of the structures being introduced, but it is not imperative that these are drilled, unless it is obvious that the pupils do need the practice. Do not spend too long on one structure; pupils soon learn the correct formula and can get all the answers right. These are better learnt over a long period of time with constant usage in a meaningful context—for example, in general conversation in class, or through a game.

Take note of recurring errors when the pupils speak amongst themselves or to you. There is no need to correct these errors every time they are made in general conversation, but if you are aware of the mistakes that are being made, you can put these right by ensuring that the pupils making the mistakes practise the correct drills at an appropriate time later on.

Here is a basic list of structures for use in the early stages of learning English. They are not in any particular order of introduction. Many additional structures will be used in oral work.

Please consult the Guides for the levels below and above this one. They may contain ideas and suggestions that could be adapted and used in preparation of lesson plans for the Units at this level. For example, the Guide for the Primers contains a number of ideas about supplementary materials that can be made and used in class, and the words of over 70 songs, rhymes, and short poems.
This is an expository story on the importance of hard work, keeping Hazrat Muhammad as a role model. The dignity of labour means that respect and value are given to all forms of work. Students should be made to understand that all kinds of labour is important, and respect should be given to jobs that involve manual labour as well. Discuss the teachings of Hazrat Muhammad who said that no job should be held in contempt or considered inferior. Honour belongs to those who work hard and not to those who sit idle.

Please note that for the comprehension questions, pupils will give their own answers. Where answers are given in this Teaching Guide, they should be seen as examples only. Pupils should be allowed, and encouraged, to use their own words, so long as the question has been answered correctly. In some instances in this book, only notes are given, not full answers.

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Choose the correct answer:
   a. work.
   b. to repair something that is damaged.
   c. Hazrat Muhammad helped with housework equally. He not only helped his wives with cooking, milking the goats, and other housework, he also washed and mended his own clothes.
   d. The good thing about doing our own work is that it makes us feel independent and successful. It also prevents us from feeling arrogant.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Write opposites for these words. You will find them in the passage.
   a. always
   b. everyone
   c. slowly
   d. disliked
   e. enemy
   f. go
   g. leave
   h. wise

2. Fill in the table. How can one change the ending of missing words? Instructions are confusing. Here you can add the rules for singular plural instead of in the later exercise for logical progression. Change the ending of the missing words by adding or removing ‘s’ or ‘es’.

   car  bus  hats  glasses  fox  boxes

3. Anagrams are words made by re-arranging letters of another word or phrase. Make anagrams of the words given below.
   1. care  2. trap  3. earth  4. keen
C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Put suitable conjunctions in the following blanks, and write the complete sentences in your notebook.
   a. and  b. but  c. and  d. or  e. and  f. but Once the students have added the suitable conjunctions, have them write the complete sentences in their notebooks.

2. Complete the following sentences in your own words. Pay attention to the conjunction used.
   There is no one answer for this; ask the students to complete the sentences in their own words.

3. Here are some English proverbs (sayings). Read these expressions and talk about them with your class. When do we use them?
   Explain to students that a proverb is a wise saying, and that many cultures have collections of these. Give them a few examples and ask them if they know of any. Afterwards, discuss the given proverbs and class and in which situations they’re used.

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. This activity will help students understand the dignity of the Pakistani flag. Before starting, ask the students if they treat the Pakistani flag with care and respect. Divide the class into three groups. Each group will read a section of the text. Make sure that when it is one group’s turn at speaking, the others are listening carefully. At the end, each group will explain their section to the class. Ask them what message they can learn from this passage.

2. Before starting this activity, give the students some homework to find out the meaning of the symbols and colours of a Pakistani flag by doing some internet research, or by asking their parents. When doing this activity, make sure you have the flag of Pakistan at hand, or a picture of it. Conduct a class discussion on what the students have researched.

E COMPOSITION

Have you ever helped at your school or house in setting up Independence Day decorations? Write a paragraph about the work you did and how it made you feel. Make sure that your paragraph has one main idea and that you elaborate it with the help of details and examples.

Discuss this in class first. While writing the paragraph, explain to students that they should have a main idea in mind before writing it, and that they should support that main idea with the help of supporting details. Help with vocabulary if needed.

PROJECT: MAKING A GREETING CARD

Ask students if they know what greeting cards are; have they ever given it to anyone, or received it themselves? Proceed with class activity of making a greeting card for 14th August.
Workbook

A BECAUSE IT IS EASY

Read these sentences. Note the conjunctions.
Help children identify the conjunctions in the sentences.

1. Use the conjunctions given in the box below to fill in the blanks. You can use some words more than once.
   a. We went to the forest but we didn’t see a tiger.
   b. He gave me an umbrella because it was raining.
   c. The elephant is a big animal but the rat is small.
   d. Do you like the blue shirt or the red one?
   e. Azmat is late because the bus had an accident.
   f. Please give me the watch and I will mend it.

2. Now write your own sentences. Use each word in the box given on page 2.
   Pupils will write their own sentences.

B ANAGRAMS

The words in each line are anagrams of each other. An anagram is a word made by re-arranging the letters of another word or phrase.

Fill in the correct letters to complete the anagrams of the words given. The first one has been done for you.

1. ELBOW = BELOW
2. PLATE = PETAL
3. HORSE = SHORE
4. DEAR = READ
5. BEAK = BAKE
6. FACE = DEAF
7. TONE = NOTE
8. SING = SIGN

Dorothy Meets the Scarecrow

A meeting between two kind characters (and one of the character's dog). One of them is unusual! Both of them want something and decide to travel together. Another character is mentioned but not introduced to us yet. Pupils might like to create some more dialogue and enact the story. Discuss the unfamiliar words in the ‘words to know’ section.

Please note that for the comprehension questions, pupils will give their own answers. Where answers are given in this Teaching Guide, they should be seen as examples only. Pupils should be allowed, and encouraged, to use their own words, so long as the question has been answered correctly. In some instances in this book, only notes are given, not full answers.

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. The road is made of yellow bricks.
   b. Dorothy’s pet is called Toto. He is a dog.
   c. The Scarecrow has been put in the field by the farmer in order to scare away crows so that they do not eat the crops.
   d. Dorothy helps the Scarecrow to get down from the pole that he is stuck on. She also encourages him to go to the Emerald City to ask the Great Oz for a brain.
   e. The Scarecrow helps Dorothy by carrying her basket.
   f. The Scarecrow wants to ask the Great Oz for a brain.

These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   g. We know the Scarecrow is kind and polite because: he carries Dorothy's basket; he greets Dorothy when he sees her; he uses polite language such as ‘thank you’...
   h. The Scarecrow is afraid of a lighted match because he is made of straw and straw burns easily. A lighted match could kill him.
   i. It is not possible! Stories often contain impossible or incredible things - such as a Scarecrow that can talk!

While Reading: Pupils will give their own answers.
Challenge: Pupils will have their own ideas.

2. Answer the questions about these lines from the story.
   ‘I understand how you feel,’ said the little girl, who was truly sorry for him.
   a. Dorothy
   b. To the Scarecrow.
   c. Because he wants something that he does not have (a brain) and she also wants something (to go home).
   d. Dorothy offers to help the Scarecrow; she says that if he comes with her, she will ask the Great Oz to help him. They set off on the yellow brick road together.
3. Which of these sentences are true (T) or false (F)?
   a. true  b. false  c. false  d. false  e. true

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Write 'a' or 'an' before the following nouns.
   a. a  b. a  c. an  d. a  e. a  f. an

2. Which word in each list is not spelt correctly? Write the correct spelling of these multisyllable words in your notebook.
   Pupils should refer to a dictionary if they are not sure about any of the spellings.
   a. fryed (fried)  b. escuse (excuse)  c. desided (decided)  d. quitely (quietly) Pupils can put these words into alphabetical order.

3. Say these words. Each word has a silent letter. For example: the word write has a silent ‘w’.
   Write the words in your book and underline the silent letter.
   sword wrong answer knee know knife right light fright

4. Try to find these words in the story.
   Pupils will use their own words; the answers should be regarded as correct if the meanings are the same as those given below.
   a. fence  b. hat  c. pin  d. mice

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

Review what the pupils know about nouns; briefly touch on adjectives and verbs, but these will be reviewed in depth later.

• Give examples in sentences. Write some sentences on the board and ask the pupils to pick out the nouns.
• Read out a random list of words and pause after each. If the word is a noun, the pupils should shout out ‘noun’.
• Do the same, after you have formed two teams. Give each team one word at a time. If they get it right (Yes, it is a noun. No, it is not a noun.), then award a point.

1. Write these sentences in your notebook in the correct order.
2. Now underline all the nouns in the sentences that you just wrote down.
   d. He was sitting on a bench, waiting for a bus.
   f. The bus did not come.
   c. A taxi arrived and the man got in.
   e. The driver asked him for some money.
   a. The man took a note from his pocket and gave it to him.
   b. The taxi went off down the road.
   g. The taxi arrived at the house.
   • Ask the pupils what they think all this was about. Who was the man? Where was he going? Why did he take the taxi? What happened to the bus?

3. Circle the proper nouns and underline the common noun in the box given below.
   Common nouns: festival, river, country, girl Proper nouns: Sara, Pakistan, Karachi, Eid
D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

Read the rhetorical question. You didn’t just speak, did you?

Point out that a statement is made, and at the end, the speaker asks a question seeking agreement. The listener would probably give an answer in agreement, even if the words he uses are negatives: ‘No, it’s not.’

1. Work in pairs and complete the following by matching the statements with the correct question tags.

First read the statements in the first column.

It’s not yours. What’s not yours? This pen. This pen is not yours.

The pupils will understand that the ‘it’ in the statement refers to the pen. You are making a statement about it. Then you are asking a question, because you are not sure. You want the listener to tell you. So you ask: It’s not yours, is it? The second ‘it’ also refers to the pen. The listener will say, ‘Yes, it is.’ or ‘No, it’s not.’

Note that the verb in the question tag must agree with the verb in the statement. The pronoun must also agree.

We cannot say: They have worked, isn’t it? (No agreement between verb or pronoun)

We should say: They have worked, haven’t they?

The correct responses are given below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Incomplete statements</th>
<th>Question tags</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a. They have met you before,</td>
<td>haven’t they?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>b. Let us see whether he is in,</td>
<td>shall we?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>c. You are in the team,</td>
<td>aren’t you?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>d. They are very bright,</td>
<td>aren’t they?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>e. It has been stolen,</td>
<td>hasn’t it?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>f. Don’t tell anyone,</td>
<td>will you?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>g. I think this is a good idea, (seek agreement)</td>
<td>don’t you?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

When the pupils have matched all the question tags to the incomplete statements, get them to read out the completed statements. They can then practise the statements with a partner.

2. Your teacher will read some statements. Listen carefully, then add a question tag.

Please see page 141 of the textbook for this exercise. Remember to correct the pupils if you hear them saying:

‘He’s late, no?’ (He’s late, isn’t he?)

E COMPOSITION

What do Dorothy and the Scarecrow say to the Great Oz when they meet him?

Talk about how they could ask politely for what they want. Discuss polite language: please, thank you, excuse me, may I, could you…

Write up on the board any difficult words that they come up with.

F NUMBERS

1. Read these words and write the number in the box.

10  20  30  40  50
2. Say these numbers and write them in words.
   Help the students correctly pronounce the numbers in class.

3. What comes next? Copy these numbers.
   Help the students copy the digits as it is.

4. Your teacher will call out some of the numbers above. Write them as words?
   Call out some of the numbers listed above, such as twenty, forty, fifty, etc. Ask the students to write them as words.

Workbook:

A NOUNS

Revise what the pupils already know about nouns. They should know that a noun is the name of a thing. There are common nouns (things in general: toy, banana, book, lamp, etc.) and proper nouns (names for people, places: Aamer, Sara, Multan).

1. Put six nouns in each list in alphabetical order and also write the group name. First find the verb and cross it out.

   Explain what is to be done. There are a number of tasks to perform. When you have explained, allow the pupils to work on their own. Some of the words in the lists will be new words for the pupils. They should get into the habit of referring to a dictionary when they don’t know the meaning of a word. Only as a last resort should they ask you. The easy way is for you to give them all the meanings; but they will learn little with this approach.

   The nouns in the lists all belong to a particular group or family.

   Pupils should first read the words. They should find the odd word in each list, and cross out this word. All the odd words are verbs. The nouns can then be arranged in alphabetical order. Finally, the group names may be written in the blanks.

   The illustration shows individual items that can be played with: the group is ‘toys’. The odd words below are shown in brackets.

   a. jasmine, lily, lotus, poppy, rose, violet: flowers (jump)
   b. carp, cod, kipper, perch, mahseer, trout: fishes/fish (trot)
   c. chisel, drill, file, hammer, plane, saw: tools (went)
   d. coat, shirt, shorts, socks, tie, trousers, vest: clothes (roll)
   e. bureau, chair, settee, sofa, stool, table: furniture (drop)
   f. envelope, pad, paper, punch, rubber, ruler: stationery (hit)

   Discuss the pupils’ selections and the words in each list. Check that they know what the words mean.

   • Note that some of the words in the lists have two or more meanings. Some of these words, on their own, might be seen as verbs (tie, punch, file, drill, perch). We can only tell whether a verb is a noun or a verb by the work it does in a sentence. In the exercise just completed, however, we know that six words are all from a particular group, so we have been looking for nouns to go in that group.
B ARTICLES

Revision of definite/indefinite articles.

Explain the use of the. E.g.: She dropped a pencil. (Any pencil, not a specific one.) The pencil broke. (It was the same pencil that she had dropped.) We use the definite article (the) when the thing (the noun) about which we are speaking is already known to us.

Also explain that certain things, of which there is only one, are always preceded by the, for e.g.: the Pacific Ocean, the capital (of the country), the Sun.

1. Give examples of your own for the articles a, an, and the.

Pupils will give their own examples.

2. Write a or an before these nouns.
   a. a man  b. an orange  c. an axe  d. a tree  e. the world  f. a large ear (but, an ear)

3. Write a, an, or the where they are necessary in the following.
   a. In the Atlantic Ocean there are many __ fish.
   b. One day an ostrich ran into our garden. It stayed in the garden for a week.
   c. Hira is a good dancer. She is the best dancer in the school.
   d. Mount Everest is a very high mountain. It is the highest mountain in the world.
   e. Last week I went to see the doctor. (Assuming that the doctor is one usually seen by the speaker.)
   f. Please pass the sugar, Raheel.

C CAT AND MICE

The pupils might not remember what the word singular means. You can explain briefly about singular and plural.

1. Write the sentences given on the next page in the singular form.
   a. A finger has a nail.  b. A tiger is a fierce animal.
   c. A shirt is made of cloth.  d. A fish swims in water.
   e. A carpenter uses a hammer and a chisel.
   f. A house can be made of stone.
   g. A small boy can make a huge castle from sand and water.

D SAY THESE NUMBERS

1. Your teacher will call out some numbers. Write them as words.

Read out the given numbers to students.

This is an adaptation of an old story. The story of the grandfather and the wooden bowl is at least a couple of centuries old. In Chinese folk literature, the bowl is porcelain; in Asian literature, it is a basket (into which the parents want to put the grandfather and send him off down a river). There are a number of angles from which this story can be viewed. It is about the elderly and how we treat them; it is about doing to others what they might do to us; it is about young children seeing things from a wise point of view and making profound statements; it is also perhaps a story which tells us that we should value humans and human relationships more than we value material things such as a bowl.

Discuss all the unfamiliar words and ask the pupils to use them in oral sentences.

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. The family lived in a small town in Germany.
   b. Manfred was a carpenter; he made furniture and did some carving. He sold these things to the people in the town.
   c. Thekla was Manfred's wife, Wilhelm's mother and Kurt's daughter-in-law.
   d. Kurt's hands used to shake because he was old.
   e. Wilhelm was making a wooden bowl to give to his parents when they grow old.

   These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   f. Thekla and Manfred got angry with the old man. They punished him by making him sit in a corner and eat from a wooden bowl.
   g. The parents' (Thekla's and Manfred's) eyes filled with tears. They realized how unkind they had been to the old man.

   While reading: Pupils will give their own answers, however, they should be taught to treat older people kindly.

   Challenge: See introduction, above. Accept plausible explanations.

2. Answer the questions about these lines from the story.
   "They looked in his room, but he was not there."
   ‘Where could that boy be?’
   a. The boy's parents, Thekla and Manfred looked in the room.
   b. Thekla asked the question.
   c. They were looking for Wilhelm. They wanted him to come and eat his evening meal.
   d. He (Wilhelm) was in the workshop.

3. Stories usually have three parts: a beginning, a middle, and an end. Put these three parts in the correct order.
   Beginning: c   Middle: b   End: a
B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Match the following.
   a. In the evenings, they sat down to dinner.
   b. They bought him a cheap wooden bowl.
   c. They all lived in a little old house.
   d. The son earned a good living.
   e. The old man didn’t complain.
   f. The little boy was making a bowl.

2. Find words in the story for the following.
   a. carpenter  b. carve  c. grandfather  d. workshop  e. daughter-in-law

3. Is it dinner time yet? In your book, write sentences about these pictures. Use these words.
   Before starting, ask students at what time they have breakfast, lunch, and dinner. Then ask them to write sentences for the given words.

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

Verbs

Review what the pupils know about verbs. Give further examples.

1. Underline the verbs in the following.
   sat, read, waited, came, hit, fell, went, landed, catch, said, smiled, rubbed

2. Choose a verb from the box to complete the following. Use the correct form of the verb, and use each verb only once.
   a. rested  b. are playing  c. drank  d. watches  e. caught

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. Read this list of words aloud. Be careful how you say the words.
   Note that the sounds are very similar, but they are NOT the same. The words can only be pronounced properly if the mouth is opened wide and the words are spoken clearly. Allow the pupils to practise saying the words aloud a number of times.

2. Choose a word and say it aloud to your friend. Can he/she spell the word correctly?
   Allow them to actually do this in a controlled test in class.

3. Say these words beginning with ‘c’ aloud. In your notebook, try to sort the words into two lists.

<table>

E COMPOSITION

1. Do you have grandparents? Where do they live? What did they do to earn their living? Do they still work? Think about your grandparents for a few minutes. Then tell the others in your class a few interesting things about them.
Some pupils may try to get out of this one by saying they never knew their grandparents. Ask them to speak about an uncle or aunt, and if none of those exist, then they can speak about their parents. But they must speak.

2. Parents and grandparents are a blessing. We should be thankful for the blessings in our lives. Think of some things you are thankful for and write a few sentences about them.

Talk about the importance of being thankful and of gratitude. Teach students the importance of saying thanks for the things and people they are thankful for. Have a class discussion on some of the things everyone is thankful for. Ask them to write sentences on it.

Project: Let’s learn more about woodwork

Read the given passage and have a discussion on the profession of carpentry. Ask students to observe their surroundings and list down things that might have been made by a carpenter.

Workbook:

A NOMAN AND ZEESHAN

Using more than, less than, and fewer than.

1. Talk about the picture. Name some of the things in the shops. Compare them.
   Oral: Discuss some examples of your own. Note that we use ‘less than’ for uncountable nouns and ‘fewer than’ for countable nouns.
   E.g.: We have fewer girls than boys in class. There are fewer flowers in his garden than in mine. We have less time during the week. They have less tea than we have.
   If you conduct this exercise with real objects, it will be easily grasped. But you will have to have small quantities of a number of uncountable things: sugar, tea, coffee, sand, water, powder, etc., as well as countable things: marbles, sticks, leaves, flowers, petals, and anything else you can lay your hands on. You may think all this is unnecessary, and that the expressions can be learnt quite easily without any supplementary materials of this kind, but this is exactly the sort of input that will make your lessons far more interesting and enjoyable. Pupils will remember such lessons for a long time to come.

2. Fill in the blanks.
   Oral: Discuss the pictures first.
   a. Noman has more money than Zeeshan.
   b. Zeeshan has less money than Noman.
   c. Noman has fewer coins than Zeeshan.
   d. Zeeshan has more coins than Noman.

3. Write sentences about Noman and Zeeshan.
   Pupils will use the words in the box, however, they may write additional sentences about the other objects in the pictures.
   a. Noman has more bottles than Zeeshan.
   b. Noman has less hair than Zeeshan.
   c. Noman has more boxes than Zeeshan.
   d. Zeeshan has fewer tins than Noman.
   e. Zeeshan has more shelves than Noman. etc.
   f. Noman has more gold than Zeeshan
B VERBS

1. Here are four passages from the story. Some of the verbs are missing. Can you put them in the correct places? You will have to change the form of the verb first.

Explain to the pupils that each verb must be used once only. They should go through the whole paragraph first and work out mentally which verb will go where; otherwise there will be a lot of rubbing out to do. Perhaps they can first lightly pencil in the words they intend using.

The verbs, in order, are:

a. dropped, smashed, fell
b. became, looked, was, saw, went
c. stepped, found, sitting, was cutting, working
d. come, said, put, went, asked, sit

C WHEN

1 and 2. Match the following to make sentences. Use ‘when’ in each sentence.

a. iii; Aliya wakes up when she hears the alarm clock.
b. i; Mo takes Umair to see a film when it is his birthday.
c. ii; Ambreen likes mangoes when they are ripe.
d. v; Uzma eats her lunch when it is 1 ‘o’ clock.
e. iv; Parveen listens carefully when her frien

Spend a little time discussing the unfamiliar words and using them in sentences, after the poem has been read through a number of times. On the first and second readings, do not try to explain all the difficult words. As the general picture is understood, so too are the words and phrases. These will be picked up incidentally, and even if the precise meaning of a particular word is not understood, its meaning will be sensed. Note the rhythm of the lines. They have ten syllables.

Discuss playing. Do the pupils play games using their imaginations, pretending to be someone or something? Do they have a garden? Or visit a park or playground? Do they prefer playing games indoors or outside? Who do they like to play with? There is lots to talk about.

Suggestions and answers

A UNDERSTANDING THE POEM

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. They are imagining that they are spies on a mission.
   b. Getting some gold/apples.
   c. Their father.
   d. The bushes are compared to twisted wire; the wall is compared to a warm fire.
   e. The area next to the garden shed.
   f. The old garden chair.
   g. They eat the apples they have got.

   These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   h. Either of the girls or their father could have said this. You could act out the poem and put this to test!
   i. Two accounts:
      · One spy guards the base while the other tries to sneak past the beast to get to the gold. Just after the spy has got the gold, she is caught by the beast but the two spies fight off the beast and escape back to their base. The beast goes back to its lair.
      · Two sisters are playing a game while their father is relaxing in the garden. One sister tries to sneak past her father to pick apples. Their father joins in the game by pretending to be asleep, catching one of them and play-fighting with them. The girls eat apples from the tree and their father goes back to relaxing in the garden chair.

2. Answer the questions about these lines from the poem.

   I did not notice the beast’s beady eye
   Opening slowly (my dad could be sly).

   a. The girl by the apple tree.
   b. Her father.
   c. Brackets.
   d. The father joins in the game and ‘captures’ the girl.
B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Find rhyming words in the poem for the following.
   (Not all of the words are at the end of the line.)
   - a. old/gold/hold
   - b. head/shed
   - c. grew/flew
   - d. east/beast
   - e. pie/eye/I/sly
   - f. call/wall/all
   - g. losing/snoozing
   - h. dreamed/screamed

2. Match the words that have similar meanings.
   - grabbed captured
   - snoozed dozed
   - pretend act
   - defeated beaten
   - battle fight

3. Match the following.
   - a. as green as grass
   - b. as white as snow
   - c. as proud as a peacock
   - d. as sharp as a needle
   - e. as old as the hills
   - f. as fresh as a daisy

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

Find at least ten verbs in the poem. Use them in sentences of your own.
Possible answers:
were, was, had, guarded, woke, crept, did, opening, reached, captured, took, grabbed, made, looked, screamed, flew, started, fought, fell, could, liked, escaped, hung, returned, munched Pupils may use some or all of the ten verbs they find in sentences.

Adjectives
Do you remember what you learnt about adjectives?
Adjectives tell us more about a noun.
Example: The golden apple hung from the branch. ‘Golden’ tells us about the apple. It is an adjective.

1. Underline the adjectives in these lines from the poem.
   - a. The mad beast was asleep.
   - b. I crept past the twisted bushes.
   - c. Happily, we munched on the big, tasty apples

2. Add suitable adjectives to the following, using the letters given.
   Pupils will use their own words. Examples:
   - a. an enormous/edible mango
   - b. a cuddly/cute/cunning kitten
   - c. an aging/amazing/astounding actress
   - d. a broken/black ladder
   - e. a tiresome/terrible/toiling salesman
   - f. an ugly/unfortunate duckling

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. Listen to the sentences being read aloud. Underline the correct word from each pair for the sentence to make sense.
   You may create a new set of sentences to read by choosing a different set of words from the pairs given.
   - a. vest  b. suit  c. back  d. chips  e. brought

2. There are nine different words that start with the letter ‘g’ in this poem. Find them all and write them in your book. Say the words. Eight of them start with a hard ‘g’ sound but one starts with a ‘j’ sound. Which one?
The hard g sound is the most common sound for the letter g. G may sound like j only when followed by a E, I, or Y. There are lots of words that do not follow this ‘rule’, often due to their origin. Examples: get, begin, gift.

If the class are able to, get them to search for all the words with g in them (g appears 23 times) and to identify the ‘ng’ sound at the end of words (playing, snoozing, glowing, hung, opening), the hard ‘g’ in big, and the silent ‘g’ in fight, fought, and might. Please note: garden, game(s), and gold are repeated in the poem!

3. Your teacher will read a list of words. Write down what you hear. If you get any words wrong, learn them for next time!

Read out the list of words to the students given at the back of the book. Once done, check to see if they’ve written correctly.

E COMPOSITION

Talk about the games that you like to play.
Discuss games and what makes them enjoyable. Try to cover a range of games and different kinds of play!

PROJECT: EXERCISE IS WISE

Read the given text in class and discuss the importance of exercise. Discuss with students that playtime and sports are great ways of getting some exercise in. Discuss some of the given famous sports personalities. Ask students if they have a favourite sportsperson that they admire. Help students make a poster on them.

F NUMBERS

1. Write these numbers as words in your book. The first one in each row has been done for you.
   Help the students write out the digits in words. Make sure they are putting in hyphens where needed.

2. Your teacher will call out some numbers between 1 and 100. Write them as words.
   Call out any number from 1–100, such as 22, 34, 45, etc. and have students write them out as words.

3. We add an ‘s’ to most nouns to make a plural. Write the plurals for the following words.
   Remember, in words ending in a consonant and ‘y’, the ‘y’ changes to ‘ies’. Words ending in ‘o’ need an ‘s’ or an ‘es’ to be added to make a plural.

   change y to ies countries  babies  puppies  lorries  families  flies cities  ladies

   radios  kilos  photos  zeroes  pianos

   add es heroes  volcanoes  potatoes  tomatoes

4. How many? Some nouns can be counted but some are uncountable. Write the following in your book. Write one or some before each one.
   a. one piece of paper  b. some paper
   c. one glass of water  d. some water
   e. some rice  f. one bag of rice
Workbook:

A AS COOL AS

1. Read the following sentence and talk about the meaning.
   The girl is as cool as a cucumber.
   Explain to the students the meaning of the idiom ‘as cool as a cucumber’. Discuss with them that it means the person is very calm, relaxed, and easy-going.

2. Match A and B by drawing lines.
   a. as dry as a bone
   b. as good as gold
   c. as white as snow
   d. as heavy as lead
   e. old as the hills

B FIERCE WORDS: ADJECTIVES

Revise nouns and verbs, and adjectives in particular. Use some examples of your own.

1. Read the passage. Pay careful attention to the underlined words.

2. Write noun, verb, or adjective for each word marked in the passage.
   a. adjective
   b. verb
   c. adjective
   d. noun
   e. verb
   f. noun
   g. verb
   h. adjective

3. Write a sentence for each picture on page 11. Use an adjective, a noun, and a verb as shown in the example.
   The pupils need not use a noun, verb, and adjective in the same sentence. They can underline one in each sentence they have written and identify it. Discuss their sentences after the exercise has been completed.
   a. The big vase fell on the floor.
   b. The fierce dog bit/is biting the boy.
   c. The old lady sat/is sitting/resting/sleeping in the armchair.
   (The pupils may make different sentences.)

This chapter highlights Abdul Sattar Edhi as an ideal role model for philanthropy. Students will read an abridged version of his life story and how The Edhi Foundation was established. Students will learn the value of selflessness and the importance of helping those in need.

Suggestions and answers

a. A philanthropist is someone who uses their money and time for the welfare of others.
b. He opened his first dispensary in 1951.
c. Some of the volunteers whose help Edhi enlisted were people studying to become doctors. Doctors, nurses, drivers, and anyone who wanted to help could also volunteer. The doctors and nurses helped anyone who was sick, while the driver worked with the ambulances.
d. The Edhi Foundation provides emergency services, takes in orphans, helps handicapped persons, and is also a women’s shelter.
e. Ever since his childhood, Edhi’s mother taught him the value of selflessness and of thinking about others. She sent him to school with two paisa coins, one to buy his lunch and one to give to a beggar. When she was unwell, Edhi looked after her. These events lead him to help others in need.

2. Answer the questions about these words from the text.
   a. Edhi
   b. In a small apartment in the Edhi Foundation headquarters building
   c. He helped set up The Edhi Foundation which helps the poor and needy.
   d. The ‘Angel of Mercy’.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

Philanthropist, Muslim, Angel of Mercy, Bilquis, Edhi Foundation, Pakistan, donations, volunteers, ambulance.

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Match the numbers and dates with the explanations.
   a.–iii.  b.–iv.  c.–i.  d.–v.  e.–ii.

2. Complete the sentences below about yourself using ‘I can/I cannot’.
   Pupils will have their own answers for this.

3. Fill in the blanks with the correct singular or plural noun.
4. Underline the pronouns in the sentences below.
   a. they  b. I   c. He

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. Work in a group of three and come up with one example for each sound.
2. In small groups, practise listening and responding to commands given such as: sit down, stand up, etc.
   Tell children about the three sounds of -ed and give examples in a class discussion.

E COMPOSITION

Fill in the fact file on Edhi as required. Then help students choose a role model of their liking and help them make a similar fact file on them.

Workbook

A HE IS A BOY: PRONOUNS

1. Read these sentences. Note the pronouns.
   Help children identify the pronouns in the sentences.

2. Put a line under all the pronouns.
   a. He is a good man.
   b. Her name is Ayesha.
   c. We live in Multan.
   d. They are going to buy a car.
   e. Do you know where it is?

While explaining the elf-man, you may relate the story of the Elves and the Shoe-maker here. Discuss the unfamiliar words.

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. It was stuck in the road and needed to have a tire changed.
   b. The traffic jam occurred on August 1st.
   c. Nine.
   d. The pothole is described as big, like a gaping mouth waiting for its next victim.
   e. Faiza collected a basket, soil, compost, small, flowering shrubs, a watering can full of water, three long lengths of wood, some board-pins, and three large sheets of card.
   f. Faiza placed one sign at each end of the road, then she placed the third sign in the pothole garden.

   These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   g. She was worried about the safety of the children in the kindergarten next door; she had seen a lot of accidents; she had written a letter to ask for help and had not received any reply or help.
   h. There are a range of accidents: vehicles get stuck, there are crashes and swerves that lead to crashes, damage to vehicles, a cart loses its load... Auto stuck!—Cyclist falls into gutter.—Man gets injured.—Baskets fall into road.—Lorry has puncture.

   While reading: Pupils will give their own answers.

   Challenge: There are a range of things that the Mayor and the Chief of Police might have said. Discuss these. Here are some ideas: It is likely that they would thank Faiza but they might also express their guilt and give their apologies. They might also mention that they would take action to fill the pothole and preserve the garden.

2. Here is a sentence from the story. Think about it and then answer the questions.
   I'm not waiting a moment longer!
   a. Faiza, after she had been keeping a log for over three weeks.
   b. They could answer with i, iii, or v though 'determined' is probably the best description.
   c. After this, Faiza collects the materials she needs so that she is ready to build her pothole garden the next morning.
   d. Yes, it attracted the attention of lots of people, including the media and the town officials; the pothole is fixed properly as a result.
B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Find words for the following in the passage.
   a. gutter      b. kindergarten   c. compost
   d. shrub       e. surface       f. accident

2. Who might have said the following?
   Discuss each statement to decide who made it, when it was made, and where.
   a. The woman or one of the two children who were sheltering from the sun at the side of the road when the wheel of their car was being fixed.
   b. Faiza.
   c. A parent or teacher at the kindergarten.
   d. Faiza in her letter. Someone from the crowd to the Mayor or the Chief of Police when they visit Faiza’s pothole garden.
   e. The photographer from the newspaper.

3. Add capital letters and full stops to the following.
   Maliah and Maira both went to Wisdom School. They were in Class Three. Their teacher was called Miss Shama. She was a very good teacher. She wore salwar kameez. She carried a black handbag. Her father worked in the commercial bank on Zaibunnisa Street.

4. Complete the sentences using his or her. Then find three sentences in this book that use his, her, or their.
   a. his
   b. her
   d. their

Prepositions

A preposition shows the position between one noun and another.

Example: She began making notes on a sheet of paper.

‘on’ and ‘of’ are prepositions.

1. Underline the prepositions in the following. Then write new sentences of your own using the prepositions.
   a. The carpet under the table was old.
   b. The river under the bridge is flowing very swiftly.
   c. The fence round the house fell down.
   d. The cat fell into the puddle.
   e. It was not easy to fly the aeroplane above.

2. Fill in the blanks with the correct past form of the verb.
   a. Faiza went back to her room.
   b. The children of the kindergarten were delighted.
   c. She pushed the piece of wood into the soil.
   d. Faiza mixed it all together.
   e. Hasan drove carefully around the garden.
D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. Faiza wrote a letter. To whom do you think she wrote it? What might she have said in it?
   Ask questions about the possible content and take responses and ideas from a group of students each time. Ask about the way she would have started and ended the letter as well as the possible content.

2. Look at the Contents list on page vi, at the start of this book. Find the page number for Letter Writing. Look at the Letter Writing template on the page and discuss it.
   Ask children to locate the Contents table in the beginning of the book. Using the table, have them locate the letter writing template given at the end of the book.

3. Look at the road signs on the next page. Do you know what the signs mean? Talk about them Then try to match the signs to the labels in the box.
   i. No goods vehicles   ii. No through roads   iii. Warning: roadworks   iv. Filling station
   v. Maximum speed limit   vi. Warning: slippery road

E COMPOSITION

1. Pretend that you were the photographer who took photographs of Faiza's pothole garden. Draw a picture and write a short report about it for the newspaper.
   Talk about what the photographer would have wanted to include in the photograph. Talk about what the report could contain and collect some ideas on the board before the pupils write their reports and draw their pictures. You may want to do the two parts of this task separately.

2. Faiza wrote a letter about a dangerous problem and the problem was fixed. Is there any problem in your area that needs to be fixed? Write a letter to the city council explaining what the problem is and asking for it to be fixed. You can also suggest solutions of your own. Use the letter writing template at the end of this book.
   Refer to the letter-writing framework at the end of the book. Have a brainstorming session with the students in which the list down a few issues that need to be addressed in their neighbourhood. Once they have picked a topic, guide them in writing the letter as per the framework.

Workbook:

A ROUND AND ABOUT: PREPOSITIONS

1. Use these prepositions in oral sentences of your own.

2. Write sentences about the pictures given on page 19, using six words given in the box on the previous page.
   Pupils may come up with other possible sentences. Each picture could inspire a number of oral sentences. Here are some examples:
   a. The boat is sailing across the river. The boat is near the mountains.
   b. The man got out of the car.
   c. The tiger is walking through the trees.
   d. The boy jumped over the fence.
   e. The girl has her hand into the jar.
   f. The cat is sitting on top of the blocks.

3. Write sentences in your notebook, using the other prepositions.
Pupils will write sentences using the other prepositions.

B  WORDS INTO WORDS

1. Change one word into another, by changing only one letter at a time.

   Note: Each new line must have a real word.

   Example: Turn boy into man.

   ↓
   bay
   ↓
   may
   ↓
   man

   cat  bat  bit  big bun  bud  mud  mad dog  cog  cot  cat

   gate  late  lame  lamp  lump tin  pin  pen  peg

   send  bend  band  bald  ball

2. Make some more puzzles like this. Ask your friends to solve them.

   Pupils should try to do their own and try them out on classmates. Get them to use three or four-letter words and limit the number of steps to 2, 3 or 4.

A story about new discoveries and how they lead to new friendships and learning experiences. It would be good to look at a map to show the pupils where New Zealand is and where Pakistan’s coastline lies. The story introduces pen-pals so you could also set up a link with another class or school and write them letters!

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. In a small fishing village in the south of Pakistan.
   b. Their fathers were both fishermen.
   c. They built sand castles, chased crabs, swam in the sea, and climbed coconut palms. They played.
   d. There was no school in their village.
   e. They took off the cap and found a piece of paper.
   f. They took it to Old Babu because he could read and they could not read.
   g. He read them the letter and then he started to teach them how to read and write.

   These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   h. They were very lucky! It is a long way from New Zealand to Pakistan; the bottle could have been smashed or floated somewhere else.
   i. Pupils will give their own answers after discussion in class.

   While reading: Pupils will give their own answers.
   Challenge: Pupils will give their own answers after discussion in class.

2. Say which of the following is true about the story.
   a. F   b. F   c. F   d. T   e. F   f. T

3. Answer the questions about these lines from the story.
   ‘There is some writing on it, but we can’t read!’
   a. Hassan
   b. To Afia
   c. The message in the bottle.
   d. It was taken to Old Babu because he could read it.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Put inverted commas in the following.
   a. ‘What does it say?’ cried Afia, excitedly.
   b. ‘You are not foolish at all!’ said Old Babu.
   c. ‘I don’t know,’ replied Hassan.
d. ‘Why are you looking so sad?’ asked Old Babu.
e. ‘Here is the boy’s address,’ he said.

2. Now add inverted commas, full stops, question marks, and commas.
   a. ‘We cannot read or write, can we?’ replied Afia quietly.
   b. ‘Look Babo!’ cried the children, excitedly.
   c. ‘There is no school here,’ said Hassan. ‘How can we learn?’

3. Complete these sentences in your notebook.
   a. Foolish means not clever, not bright.
   b. Wondered means thought about, with curiosity and doubt.
   c. Scampered means ran quickly and lightly.
   d. Address means the details of the place where someone lives or where a business is situated.
   e. Deep means far into or below the surface of something.
   f. Nearly means almost or very close to.

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. All the following sentences have grammatical mistakes. Try to find the mistakes, and rewrite the sentences correctly. Can you explain why the sentences are incorrect?
   Pupils may try to explain the mistakes. Do not expect them to give a complete grammatical breakdown. The notes in the brackets are for your information. Should you wish to give other examples and use those in the brackets to illustrate the mistakes, please do so. Use the board.
   a. The children did not went (go) to school. (Wrong tense of the verb ‘go’. We say ‘did not go, did not do, did not see,’ etc. not ‘did not went, did not did, did not saw.’)
   b. Old Babu helped the children to reading (read) the letter. (The infinitive - to read - not the present participle is used after a first verb. Helped to find, liked to walk…)
   c. Hassan haven’t (hasn’t) seen the letter before. (The verb does not agree with the subject. First person: I have, we have; Second person: you have; Third person: he has, she has, it has, they have.)
   d. ‘Where you were (were you)?’ asked Afia. (Words transposed.)
   e. ‘It was friendly, isn’t it (wasn’t it)?’ (The question tag, seeking agreement, must relate to the words used in the question. It was dirty, wasn’t it? It was big, wasn’t it? They were late, weren’t they? She has seen him, hasn’t she?)
   f. ‘New Zealand is beautiful, no (isn’t it)?’ (Wrong question tag. ‘No’ is never used. The lake is empty, isn’t it? She is ill, isn’t she?)
   g. He didn’t found (find) the letter in a bag. (Wrong form of the verb ‘find’. Did not find, did not go, did not tell, etc.)

2. That hat is mine, it belongs to me! Choose the correct pronouns to use in the sentences below.
   a. yours b. its c. hers d. theirs

3. We cannot read! Answer these questions using can or cannot.
   Encourage students to answer the questions using can or cannot depending on the question asked.

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

In small groups, act out the story. You can add more dialogues (or even one or two more children) if you need to.
After practising for a while, show your performance to other students in the class. After watching each group’s performance, your teacher will ask others to comment on what the group did well and what they could improve next time.

Give some guidance on performance: speaking clearly; acting with body and voice; not turning their backs to the audience; staying in character (even if it isn’t their turn to speak or if something goes wrong!); enjoying the performance, and being a good audience! Keep the feedback positive – two positives and one improvement. Ask three different pupils for one bit of feedback each.

E COMPOSITION

Using the pictures and words given below, write a short story (of three paragraphs) of your own. You may use them in any order.

Pupils should try to come up with their own compositions. They can then read out to the others what they have written.

PROJECT: PAKISTAN’S COASTLINE - A MAP

With the help of the given key, guide the pupils in studying the map, then discuss the given questions.

Workbook:

A EVERY AND ONLY

Oral: Discuss the statement. Use other examples, and use the words ‘every’ and ‘only’.

Examples: There is only one door in the classroom. There are many windows. Every window has glass in it. Only one window is closed. I am thinking of some names. Every name begins with A, but only one name has the letter S in it. What is the name? (Anwar, Arif, Ali, Anees, Aamer... or whatever.)

1. Look at the pictures below. Talk about the rooms.

   You may start the ball rolling by asking a few questions, then get the pupils to ask and answer questions. Help by prompting a keyword to be used.

   E.g.: television: Does every room have a television? Yes, it does. Every room has a television.
   calendar: Does every room have a calendar? No, it does not. Only Adnan’s room has a calendar.

   Note that every room has: a television, a sofa, a table, a vase with flowers, 2 paintings, 6 books on a shelf, a photo frame with photo, a magazine on table, a window, curtains

   Only Adnan’s room has a rug under the table and a calendar on the wall.

   Only Irfan’s room has a bowl of fruit and a lamp.

   Only Maheen’s room has a clock and printed curtains.

2. Answer these questions.

   a. Only Adnan’s room has a rug.
   b. Only Irfan’s room has a bowl of fruits on the table.
   c. Only Maheen’s room has printed curtains.

3. Answer these questions. Use every or only in your answers.

   a. No, not every room has a rug. Only Adnan’s room has a rug.
   b. Yes, every room has a television.
   c. Yes, every room has a sofa.
d. Yes, every room has a picture.
e. Yes, every room has two paintings.

4. Write questions of your own with: ‘Does every...?’
   Tell the pupils to use words (for the things in the pictures) that they have not used before.
   Does every room have books on a shelf? Does every room have a photo frame? Does every room have a magazine on a table? etc.

Workbook:
The test covers textbook and workbook units 1–5.

A UNSEEN COMPREHENSION

1. Read the passage aloud to your teacher.
   Listen for fluency and the ability to read new words. Pupils may have difficulty with some of the words. Listen out for this, prompt only where and when it is necessary. The unfamiliar words have been included in the passage so you may find out whether the pupils can work out how to read them, even if the meaning is not clear.
   Some difficult words (reading and meaning):
coughed, attention, problem, warned, growled, company, serious, subject, information, internet, decide, thoughtfully.

2. Answer the following questions about the reading passage.
   a. To attract his parents' attention because they were busy reading and watching television.
   b. His problem was he did not know which pet to keep.
   c. Yes, probably. He may have had a baby brother or sister or a grown up one who had left home. He says he was lonely, so he probably did not have a brother or sister.
   d. On the Internet.
   e. He thought the flat would be too small for a dog or a cat; so, a bird would be the best.

3. Here is the table that Umar made. He wrote a few things down, but it is not complete. Complete it for him.
   What do you think he might have written in the spaces?
   Pupils will fill in information they think is important. Additional suggestions are included in the table, in italics. These are not definitive items. Pupils will add comments depending on their general knowledge about pets and the care of pets.

B TEXTBOOK QUIZ

1. Give short answers to these questions.
   a. Duchess or Pet (My Early Home, from Black Beauty)
   b. Manfred and Thekla’s (The Wooden Bowl)
   c. Hassan (Message in a Bottle)
   d. To the Emerald City to see the Great Oz (Dorothy Meets the Scarecrow)
   e. Robin (Robin)

2. Give complete answers to these questions.
   a. In bed.
   b. Run/gallop round and round the field.
   c. Spies on a mission.

C WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Complete the following similes:
   Pupils may use their own words (especially for d.).
   a. as good as gold
   b. as dry as a bone
   c. as heavy as lead
   d. as dark as night/jet

2. Write the opposites of the following:
   a. always  b. slowly  c. disliked, hated  d. came

D LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Add articles (where necessary) to the following sentences:
   a. Last week (the) children of Class III went to see (a) film in (the) city.
   b. (The) film was (an) adventure (-) story set in the Arctic.
   c. There were some (-) lovely scenes set in (the) snow.
   d. (The) hero was (a) man called (-) Sam.
   e. (The) acting was of (a) very high (-) standard.

2. Find the following in the sentence below:
   a. fox, forest  b. jumped, ran  c. quick, hungry
3. Change these sentences into questions.
a. Will they leave for the station soon?
b. Can we see our friends tomorrow?
c. Shall I give it to the teacher later?

E COMPOSITION

Write a paragraph about what you are going to do tomorrow. (You can be imaginative!) Give credit for imagination. Some pupils will write about routine, others will be creative and use their imagination. They have been asked to do so.

My Playmate

A poem about a reflection. Pupils might enjoy some fun with a mirror. Which is left and which is right in a mirror image? Can they write their names as they would look in a mirror? Which words (or letters) are difficult to read in a mirror? Try d, p, q, s … try them all.
Discuss the unfamiliar words.

A UNDERSTANDING THE POEM

1. Answer these questions.
   a. The playmate comes to play on a rainy day when there are puddles on the ground.
   b. No, the playmate only comes on a rainy day.
   c. The playmate is upside-down at all times.
   d. The boy feels sad when he has to tread upon his playmate’s feet.
   This question is more difficult. Discuss it first.
   e. The boy thinks the playmate lives in another land because he never hears him speaking.

2. Answer the questions about this line taken from the poem.
   I really wish he’d talk to me…
   a. The poet is talking about the playmate (the reflection).
   b. Because the playmate looks ‘so very kind’ and smiles back.

3. Read the text and see if you can come up with questions.
   Explain to pupils that one way of asking questions is by using the wh- words. Scan the text with them and have them come up with their own questions.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. What do you think the following are? They are all common nouns.
   a. a tree
   b. shoes, sandals, boots, slippers
   c. an iron
   d. a pair of glasses, spectacles

2. Can you tell the difference in the words given below?
   a. wonder: surprise, to be amazed or in admiration wander: to move from place to place, without purpose, or known destination
   b. sight: the ability to see site: place, an area or location
   c. shower/flower

3. These are common words for collections in English. Try to use them in sentences of your own.
Pupils will use the expressions in sentences. However, discourage sentences which read: A regiment of soldiers is here! A swarm of bees came. There is a chain of hills there. These sentences do not tell us anything or give us a clue as to what the expressions might mean. It is better to encourage the writing of sentences such as: The regiment of soldiers camped in the field outside the town before the battle. A swarm of bees left the hive every day in search of nectar. etc.

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

Discuss articles with the children.

1. Fill in the following blanks with the correct article, a, an, or the.
an, a, a, a, an, the, a, the, the, an.

2. Fill in the blanks with a, an, or some.
a. a b. an c. some d. an e. some f. a g. some

3. This, that, these, those are known as direction words. Use them each in a sentence of your own.
a. that b. this c. those d. these

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1 and 2. Read aloud the given sentences and guide the students in repeating it with correct pronunciation. Encourage students to see how the words are rhyming.

3. Discuss with students what their morning routine is. Ask them what they do to get ready in the morning.

E COMPOSITION

Do you have a friend? Who is it?

Make a chart in your notebook and fill it in like the one below about your friend. Draw a picture of your friend in the middle. Then write the information in the form of a paragraph.

Now the pupils will have to write completely different pieces of prose, unless, of course, they all choose the same friend to write about.

F NUMBERS: LISTS AND DATES

Write the ordinal number from the first to the thirtieth.

Have the pupils write out the numbers in words.

PROJECT: PRESENTATION

Discuss the concept of conducting a debate with the pupils. Talk about how in debates there’s a side ‘for’ and ‘against’ the topic given. Help the students in planning their debate on the given topic.

Workbook:

A ARTICLES

Pupils have already learnt about articles, so use this page to review what they know. Go through the rules with them asking them to insert their own examples. Some notes have been included below.

1. Read these rules about articles. Under each rule, give more examples of your own.
   a. We use a in front of words beginning with a consonant.
Note that we use ‘a’ before nouns and adjectives. If the noun begins with a vowel but is preceded by an adjective that begins with a consonant, the indefinite article (a) is used. Hence: a beautiful flower, a nice idea

b. We use an before words beginning with a vowel.
Note: an exciting story, an old man

c. We use the for rivers, oceans, seas, and mountains.

d. We use the before nouns, when we know there is only one of a particular thing.
Also: the government, the president, the police, the armed forces, the press, the opposition, the Moon, the Sun, the North Pole.

2. Put articles in the blanks.
A boy and a girl live in the north of Pakistan. The city that they live in is the capital of the country. The boy’s name is Arshad. The girl’s name is Asma. Arshad is the brother of Asma. The children have a pet cat.

B OPPOSITES
Point out that opposites may be formed, in many cases, by the addition of a prefix.
E.g.: un- (unkind, unwell, unsteady, unjust) in- (inconsiderate, inability, inaccurate, inactive, incapable) im- (immature, immobile, immortal, immovable, impractical)

1. Can you think of words which are the opposite of these?
   a. happy/sad, unhappy
   b. poor/rich
   c. bad/good
   d. forget/remember
   e. fast/slow
   f. lost/found
   g. out/in
   h. go/come
   i. above/below
   j. thick/thin
   k. hard/easy, soft
   l. tight/loose
   m. tall/short
   n. strong/weak
   o. fat/thin
   p. begin/end
   q. wide/narrow
   r. clean/dirty

2. Now write words which have the same meaning.
   a. difficult/hard, tough
   b. little/small, tiny
   c. noise/sound, racket
   d. shout/scream, yell
   e. weep/cry
   f. simple/plain, easy
   g. crazy/mad
   h. shut/close

A two-part story, but each is a complete story in itself. Nothing is left hanging, except perhaps Uncle Salim.

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. Sami was drawing a flying machine.
   b. Uncle Salim was old and heavy and had a long moustache and a shiny bald head.
   c. The loops were for the feet.
   d. Sami used some bamboo, string, a newspaper, a knife, a screwdriver, and blue paint.
   e. The glider took two months to build.
   f. The pilot could control the plane by using the loops and the bar. The loops of string were for the feet; the bar was moved with the hands. The pilot moved the bar to make the plane go up or down. To go right, the right foot had to be pushed down. To go left, the left foot had to be pushed down.

   These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   g. Uncle Salim thought Sami’s machine would not fly because it was too small and had no engine.
   h. Uncle Salim was not frightened because he thought the glider would never leave the ground.
   i. Pupils will give their own responses.

   While reading: Yes, he was. Pupils will give their own answers.
   Challenge: Pupils will give their own answers.

2. Say whether the following are true (T) or false (F) about the story.
   a. F   b. T   c. F   d. F   e. T

3. Answer the questions about this line taken from the story.
   At that moment, he heard a knock at the front door and ran to see who it was.
   a. Sami
   b. Uncle Salim
   c. Sami’s design for the flying machine.
   d. Sami took Uncle Salim inside and showed him the drawings of his flying machine. Uncle Salim studied the drawings and said the machine would not fly.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Find general names for the following.
   a. vegetables   b. flowers   c. animals   d. birds   e. countries Pupils can be asked to think of some other general names for things. They should be able to remember, having named groups before.
C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Write the letter C (countable) or U (uncountable) in front of each noun given below.
   a. cake C  b. vegetables C  c. tea U  d. milk U

2. Underline the verbs in the following sentences.
   a. clapped, ran  b. smiled, sang  c. trumpeted Discuss how the actions in the sentences may be described more fully or more colourfully. Ask for suggestions.

3. What are the characters saying? Draw these speech bubbles in your notebook and write down what you think the characters are saying.
   The pupils will come up with their own answers for this.

4. Do you like or dislike doing the things given below? Discuss in pairs. Be sure to agree or disagree in a polite manner.

5. Work in pairs to discuss your opinions about the following.

6. Play this game for a fun activity with the class.
   Follow the instructions given and have the pupils attempt the exercises as directed.

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. Write words using the clusters given below, either at the beginning or at the end of each word. Read each word out loud.

2. Talk politely. With a classmate, practise speaking politely in the two situations below. Use the words and phrases in the box on the next page to help you.
   The pupils will come up with their own answers for these exercises.

3. Your teacher will read some statements. Listen carefully, then add a question tag.
   Refer to page 142 for the statements.

E COMPOSITION

If you could invent one thing that would make your life easier, what would you create? Why? Write 5 to 7 sentences about the object in your notebook. If you could invent one thing that would make your life easier, what would you create? Why? Write 5 to 7 sentences about the object in your notebook. At the end, check your work for correct punctuation and spelling.
   Pupils will compose their own answers for this.
   Pupils should be given the chance to read their sentences aloud in class.

Workbook:

A MERRILY AND SWIFTLY: ADVERBS

Oral: Use adverbs in a few examples, such as, I am waving my hands quickly. Now, I am waving them slowly. I am talking loudly; now I am talking softly, etc. Explain that adverbs add to or tell us something more about how the action of a verb is performed.

1. Choose an adverb from the box to describe each action.
2. Write one sentence about each picture.

Pupils will make up their own sentences using the words and pictures. They can, of course, add other words too. E.g.: a. The boys are running quickly because they are late for their English class.

B NOT NICE!

Nice is a ‘nice’ word but overworked. The day was nice. We had a nice picnic. My friends are nice. The dog is nice. One can learn to use other, more suitable, adjectives, so watch out for repetition of this word.

1. Read this aloud.

Nice and uninteresting, and does not really tell us much.

2. Write the paragraph again. Use the adjectives below instead of ‘nice’. First unscramble the words. (You may use your own words if you wish.)

Pupils should unscramble the words. These are:

huge  strong  cool  clear  sunny  bumpy  beautiful  thick  small Pupils may use the words in the list or ones of their own, when they rewrite the paragraph.

Yesterday was a sunny/bright/fresh day. We went for a picnic. We packed a huge/tasty/enormous lunch and walked down a bumpy/winding/narrow path. Soon we came to a beautiful/extensive/thick forest. The trees were tall and thick/shady. We saw lots of colourful/small birds and some small/large/interesting animals. The path ended at a clear/cool/fast-flowing stream. We jumped into the cool/crystal-clear/blue/inviting water. Then we ate our lunch.

(And what kind of lunch was it? A nice lunch!)

C SHORT AND SWEET

Oral: Some explanation is necessary, as some of the words may be difficult, especially the Latin terms.

1. Do you know what these stand for?

2. Now try these:
   e. Monday  f. Tuesday  g. Wednesday  h. Thursday
   i. Friday  j. Saturday  k. Sunday
   l. before noon (Latin: ante meridiem)  m. after noon (Latin: post meridiem)

3. In the abbreviations below, the letters stand for the first letter(s) of the word.
   a. kilometre  b. kilogram  c. care of  d. Please turn over

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. Sami and the other boys pushed the glider off the rock.
   b. The glider tilted over on its side because Uncle Salim leant over and tried to catch the end of the broken string.
   c. When Uncle Salim caught hold of the bamboo stick, the glider started to go round and round in circles, getting lower and lower.
   d. He was not happy. He did not enjoy his flight, and said that he never wanted to go in another flying machine.
   e. Pupils will mention any they can think of: cloth, plastic, aluminium, etc.

   This question is more difficult. Discuss it first.
   f. Uncle Salim shrieked when the glider was pushed off the rock and it started to fall towards the ground. He shrieked because he was frightened and surprised.

   Challenge: Uncle Salim’s face was white with fear. Pupils will come up with their own examples of when people get paler/darker: illness, anger, exposure to the sun...

2. Answer the questions about this line from the story.
   ‘Oh, my goodness!’ he said to himself, ‘Now what shall I do?’
   a. Uncle Salim
   b. He was up in the air in Sami’s flying machine.
   c. Uncle Salim had just pushed his foot down again to turn the glider, but nothing happened because the string was broken. He suddenly became frightened.
   d. He tried to catch the end of the string, but suddenly the whole glider tilted over on its side. He fell off his seat and just managed to catch on to it with one hand. Finally, he shrieked aloud, ‘Help! Help!’

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. What are these? Guess. Some may have two correct answers.
   a. blanket, fire
   b. mirror, clear lake
   c. teaspoon
   d. knife, axe, scissors
   e. hat, cap, wig
   f. plate
C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Add not to the following sentences. You will have to replace certain words/phrases (verbs) in the given sentences.
   a. Sami's father did not inform the police.
   b. Uncle Salim did not keep quiet.
   c. Uncle Salim did not land on a tree.
   d. Uncle Salim was not very happy.

2. Use conjunctions to fill in the blanks below.
   Revise conjunctions with the pupils before beginning the exercise.
   a. The man was young and smart.
   b. He was old but he was strong.
   c. She was shouting because she was angry.
   d. He was hungry for he had eaten nothing.
   e. You knew that I was coming.

3. Fill in the blanks using the words below.
   Comparing things. Give some of your own examples and ask pupils to suggest some.
   a. She is taller/prettier than I am.
   b. He is brighter/taller than his son.
   c. This torch is brighter/cheaper than yours.
   d. His house is smaller/cheaper than mine.
   e. A bag is smaller/cheaper than a suitcase.

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

Contractions
Explain the use of contractions to pupils.

Use these expressions in full sentences of your own, and practise saying them aloud. Work with a classmate.

I'm (I am) What's (What is) They're (They are) He's (He is/He has) She's (She is)
We're (We are) Can't (cannot) That's (That is) It's (It is) You've (You have)

E COMPOSITION

Would you like to go up in a flying machine? Is it safe? Discuss and write two paragraphs using the framework given. Try to make other people agree with you.

Pupils write their own answers. Share some of these.

Encourage the pupils to draw illustrations and write up a plan of their own. They can look at pictures of aircraft, but they should try and invent their own ‘flying machine’ and say how it works. They should try to be as adventurous as Sami.
Workbook:

A COMPARING THINGS

1. Which is faster? Which is bigger? Which is more expensive?

Talk about the following. Find suitable words in the box to pair with the words in A. Write the word in the blanks under B.

Talk about the items in column A one at a time. Ask questions about the items. What do we know about aeroplanes? How fast does an aeroplane go? Is it the fastest way to travel?

When pupils have talked about aeroplanes and flight, ask them to find something in column B which could be compared to an aeroplane. Since the clue has already been given, they will come up with ‘helicopter’.

Which is faster—a helicopter or an aeroplane? Which is slower? Which flies higher? Which carries more passengers?

The answers to all these questions will contain a comparison, if full (not one-word) answers are given.

Pupils may then find all the pairs. When they have done so, and you have checked that they are correct, the pupils can proceed with Exercise A.2.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>A</th>
<th>B</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a. an aeroplane</td>
<td>a helicopter</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>b. a boy of six</td>
<td>a man of 35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>c. a car</td>
<td>a motorbike</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>d. 395/56 - 39%</td>
<td>3+4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>e. a peacock</td>
<td>a crow</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>f. an old bicycle</td>
<td>a new bicycle</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>g. Mt Everest</td>
<td>Big Hill</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>h. a banana</td>
<td>a tomato</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>i. a hut</td>
<td>a mansion</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. When you have written all the words under B, make up oral sentences about the pairs.

Pupils may use adjectives from the list given, or ones they can think of themselves. Note: more expensive, more beautiful, more difficult; the rest are compared by adding -er.

For c. The first sum is more difficult than the second one. The second sum is easier than the first.

Pupils may use antonyms. E.g.: A hut is smaller than a mansion. A mansion is larger than a hut. A hut is cheaper than a mansion. A mansion is more expensive than a hut, etc.

B TOO EASY, OR TOO DIFFICULT?

Oral: Give examples with too. E.g.: The blackboard is too high and Riaz is too short, that is why he can’t write on it. Can an old man of ninety run a hundred miles? No—the man is too old (weak) and a hundred miles is too far, etc.

In oral practice, make sure the pairs (small, big, etc.) are sensible. They do not have to be opposites. E.g.: ‘I am too tired’ and ‘He is too lazy.’

1. Write questions and answers.

   a. Can the boy catch the dog?
      No, he can’t.
      The boy is too slow and the dog is too fast.
b. Can the woman move the box?
   No, she can't.
   The box is too heavy and she is too weak.

c. Can the man sit on the chair?
   No, he can't.
   The chair is too small and the man is too fat.

d. Can the girl reach the shelf?
   No, she can't.
   The shelf is too high and the girl is too short.

This chapter is an expository text on the horticulture of Pakistan. It talks about the national flower of Pakistan – Jasmine, and the annual Flower Festival organized by the Horticultural Society of Pakistan.

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. Pakistan has hills and mountains, valleys and plains, deserts and forests, lakes and rivers, and a long stretch of coastline.
   b. Bees help spread pollen from flower to flower so that plants grow fruits.
   c. Our national flower is jasmine.
   d. Roses are popular because of their beauty and fragrance.
   e. A flower festival usually has displays of flowering plants. Stalls are set up displaying flowers, ornamental plants, and various attractive or pleasant-smelling herbs. Gardeners, nursery owners, bonsai planters, and organic farmers present their plants.

   This question is more difficult. Discuss it first.
   f. Flowers are living things and once we pluck them, they die. Since flowers are an important part of the nature’s ecosystem, we should not pluck them unless needed.

2. Answer the questions about this line taken from the story.
   a. Roses.
   b. Let the children explain in their own words what a floral arrangement is. Guide them in using the dictionary.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Do you know what these gardening tools are used for? Talk about them.
   The gardening tools pictured are a trowel, a rake, a spade, a lawnmower, pruners, scythe, watering can. Ask the children if they can recognize the tools.

2. Arrange the following words alphabetically.
   annual, bonsai, connected, different, evergreen, floral, fragrance, landscape, monkey, rivers, roses, valleys

3. Synonyms are words that have a similar meaning. For example: sweet and sugary.
   a. fragrance; perfume
   b. pretty-beautiful; kinds-types; purpose-reason; help-aid
C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Write a few sentences about a vase of flowers. Use at least four of these prepositions in your sentences.
   Guide the students in writing sentences of their own

2. Choose the correct homophones from the given choices.
   a. meat  b. ate  c. made  d. by  e. main

3. Some nouns are only used for males (masculine) and some are only used for females (feminine).
   Put these words into three lists: neuter nouns (that can be used for non-living things), masculine nouns, feminine nouns.
   Masculine: king, sir, brother, son, uncle, boy
   Feminine: queen, madam, sister, woman, aunt, mother, girl Neutral: team, human, child, person, relative, group

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

Engage the students in a discussion on some of the animals and plants commonly found in Pakistan. Pair up the students and have them pick an animal and plant each and let them talk on it.

E COMPOSITION

Ask the pupils to imagine what being in a flower meadow must feel like. Talk about which senses would be engaged: the sense of sight, smell, and of hearing. Let pupils discuss first and then refer to the letter-writing framework at the end of the book to help them plan their letter to their mother.

F ACTIVITY: ANALYSING A PARAGRAPH

Read the given information in class and discuss the structure of a paragraph. Explain to students that a paragraph is a unit composed of different elements. It usually starts with a topic sentence that is the main idea of the paragraph. The rest of the sentences are supporting details for the topic sentence. Then carry out the given activity.

PROJECT: THE IMPORTANCE OF TREES

In class, read out the passage and the news clipping on the importance of saving trees. Discuss why trees are beneficial for the environment and why cutting them down is harmful for us. Introduce the concept of climate change. Discuss with students some ways to help preserve our forests and trees.

Workbook:

A HAPPILY HAPPY!

Discuss the picture and the sentences. Show how, by the addition of a suffix, an adjective (happy, careful, grumpy, excited, quick, immediate, colourful, etc.) that describes a noun, can be turned into an adverb (happily, carefully, grumpily, excitedly, quickly, immediately, colourfully, etc.) that describes a verb.

1. Make adverbs from these adjectives.
   a. quietly  b. smartly  c. slowly  d. lazily  e. quickly
   f. shyly  g. loudly  h. grandly  i. carefully  j. kindly
2. Write sentences of your own. Use the adverbs you have made.

Pupils will write their own sentences. Make sure the adverbs are used with appropriate verbs. And also make sure the adverbs are placed correctly in the sentence. Adverbs do not always have to be placed immediately after the verb they qualify; they can be placed before the verb too. E.g.: She carefully examined the watch. The watch was examined carefully.

Some examples:
spoke/studied/read/walked quietly moved/jogged/travelled/worked slowly ate/finished homework/ran quickly shouted/growled/yelled/rumbled loudly picked/chose/looked/examined carefully marched/arrived/displayed smartly yawned/slouched/ambled lazily smiled/spoke/hid shyly announced/entered/waved grandly acted/behaved/gave/donated kindly

B A NAME FOR A THING

Oral: A guessing game, rather like ‘I spy’, can be played. Each pupil thinks of an object. Taking turns, the pupils announce what their object is used for. The other pupils can take turns to guess what it is, and a point is awarded to the pupil who gets the answer right. If the word is not guessed, the pupil who has asked the question gets five points. (Make up your own rules.)

Pupils will get better at this, the more they play the game. They will start thinking of things which the others cannot guess too easily.

1. Write the names of these things. Write more than one word for each.
   a. cup/glass/mug
   b. money box/purse/wallet/bank
   c. paintbrush/palette/paint
   d. clock/watch/sundial
   e. ladder/rope/steps/stairs
   f. toothbrush/paste
   g. binoculars/telescope
   h. ruler/tape measure

2. Make sentences. One has been done for you. Use the same pattern but other words for things.
   Examples:
   b. If I had a dog, I would take it for a walk every day.
   c. If I had a crore of rupees, I would give a lot to the poor.
   d. If I had a garden, I would grow some mango trees.

C DESCRIBING

Oral: Take any everyday object to class and display it. Ask one pupil to describe it in a few sentences. (The questions on the page in the workbook will help.) Do the same for several other objects.

The exercise is not so easy as it first seems. Try describing a marble, a torch, a penknife, a pair of scissors, a watch.

1. Talk about the two pictures.
Pupils should try to provide more information about the two items, not merely answer the questions on the page.

2. Write five sentences about each picture given above.

These are possible descriptions—the pupils will make up their own. Note that a description can take a few sentences or a few pages.

a. This object is called a box of matches. When it is empty, we call it a matchbox. The matchbox is made of cardboard or stiff card. It is in the shape of a stiff rectangular sleeve. Inside this sleeve is a tray. The tray can be pushed out. It holds matches. People use matches to light fires. Most people have boxes of matches at home. A box of matches costs two to three rupees.

b. This is called a telephone. A telephone is used by people who are far away from each other, but who want to talk to each other. A telephone is made of plastic and metal, and is usually in two parts. The parts are connected to each other by a cable. The larger part is called the base. It is shaped like a rectangle. On it there are small buttons or keys. Each key has a number (0–9). The keys are pressed to make a connection to another telephone. The second part of the telephone is called the receiver. It is lifted and held to the ear and the mouth of the person making a telephone call (the caller). When the numbers are pressed, a connection is made to another telephone, and the second telephone rings. When the receiver is lifted at the other end of the telephone line, the caller can then speak into the receiver and also hear what the person on the other end of the telephone is saying. The telephone is very useful for keeping in touch with others. Many people have a telephone at home. Telephones come in all shapes and sizes. Some are very cheap. Some are very expensive.

This story is about some clever women. It is a story (not necessarily true!) about how silk weaving developed and spread. The silk route was an early and important trade route. Trade routes have always contributed to the spread of ideas as well as goods, as this story shows.

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. In China
   b. She worked from dawn to night, surrounded by friends and family who exchanged news and gossip as they worked.
   c. She missed her busy life and the company of her family and friends. Pupils might need some help and discussion to answer this question.
   d. He bought her grand clothes, jewels, and artefacts, threw elaborate parties, hired the best musicians of the land to amuse her.
   e. In her garden sipping hot water from a cup.
   f. To use the threads from many silk cocoons to weave soft, strong cloth from them.

   These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   g. We are not told how she knew how to weave but we can presume that she had been involved in making clothes from yarn because that would have been common for a peasant girl long ago.
   h. Before: she spent a lot of time in open countryside, she was very busy and had a lot of close family and friends around her all the time. After she was married: she was confined to the palace, she did not have anything to do, and she was surrounded by servants who would only speak to her if she spoke to them. We can presume that she was sad due to homesickness and/or loneliness.

   While reading: Silk was the finest cloth so it could be sold at a high price to other countries. If they made their own, China would not be able to earn as much money from the sale of silk.
   Challenge: It is soft, strong, and bright - the best form of cloth.

2. Answer the questions about this line from the story.
   But then she took a closer look, and saw some threads peeping out from the cocoon.
   a. The empress.
   b. In the cup of hot water she had been drinking.
   c. Sad.
   d. She pulled the thread and had a great idea: to take the thread from many cocoons and weave soft, strong cloth from it.
   e. This is the moment that silk was discovered.
3. Fill in the blanks.
   a. slowly
   b. gathered
   c. great
   d. elaborate
   e. wide, countryside

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. All these words are in the story. Unscramble them!
   a. peeping
   b. elaborate
   c. bearing
   d. weaver
   e. cocoon
   f. princess

2. How many words can you make from the letters in each grid below? You must use the middle letter in all the words you make.

   Here are some of the words that can be made:
   a. YRST(E)DEYA
      yes, yet, year, yeast, rate, red, read, rest, reed, ready, set, seat, seed, seer, seedy, sedate, tread, tea, tear, tease, ease, east, ear, easy, dear, deer, deter, desert, dare, date, ate, are
   b. RTST(P)EETI respite, ripe, tip, trip, tripe, sip, step, spire, sprite, spit, prise, pet, pest, pester, peer, pier
   c. EEAS(W)YNDD
      ewe, awe, awed, sway, swan, way, wand, wade, was, wad, wane, weed, wend, wean, yawn, yew, new, dew, dawn

3. Can you make words with multiple syllables using each grid? Write these words with their correct spelling in your notebooks.
   Pupils will have their own answers for this.

4. Given below are the meanings of some words. For each one, guess what the word is.
   a. In the past: yesterday  b. Most lovely: prettiest  c. In the week: Wednesday

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

Subject and predicate
Discuss the examples and give further examples on the board.

1. Divide the following sentences into their subjects and predicates.

   Subject          Predicate
   a. Birds         fly in the air.
   b. Carpenters    make furniture.
   c. The boys      ran down the road.
   d. The girls     sang sweetly.
   e. My mother     went to Hyderabad.
   f. Both my brothers    made a box.

2. See if you can complete the following. Use the word in brackets but change it.
   a. Yesterday we swam in the river. (swim)
   b. Last night a thief stole my bicycle. (steal)
c. Last week my mother bought some new clothes. (buy)
d. Yesterday I sent him a letter. (send)
e. My brother brought his friend home. (bring)

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

Your teacher will read a short passage. In it, a new teacher introduces herself. Read the questions first, then listen and tick the correct answer for the questions below.

Read out the passage given on page 142 of the Textbook slowly.

1. c. Mrs Zeb
2. b. Sialkot
3. b. Cathedral High
4. c. reading and travelling
5. b. cricket and old films
6. c. spicy food
7. b. blue and green

E COMPOSITION

What would you do to cheer up someone who is feeling sad? What could you say, do or arrange to make someone feel happy?

In pairs, role play a few different ideas.

Write about how you would cheer up somebody who is feeling sad.

In pairs, role play a few different ideas.

Write about how you would cheer up somebody who is feeling sad.

You may discuss this first. Pupils should role play a few ideas and discuss what seems to work. Then they should write a short explanation of how they would cheer up somebody who is feeling sad.

Workbook:

A SUBJECT AND PREDICATE

Study the table and the notes that follow it, and discuss the details. Divide the board into two sections and give some further examples.

1. Divide the following sentences into subject and predicate, and write them in the table given on the next page.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Predicate</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a. I</td>
<td>am sleepy.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>b. It</td>
<td>is not working very well.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>c. The big man</td>
<td>looked very angry.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>d. The poor woman</td>
<td>sobbed and sobbed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>e. I</td>
<td>When he went, cried.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

B TO AND FOR

Oral: Give other examples first. Write similar pairs of sentences on the board and ask pupils to turn them into single sentences.

Note how to or for are used in these sentences.

Discuss the text.

1. Use either to or for and join these sentences.
a. She switched on the radio to listen to the cricket commentary.
b. Here is a bun for you to eat.
c. Here are some coins for your friends to spend.
d. Maha went to the city to watch a film.
e. Akbar asked for a broom to sweep the room.
f. Here is a ball for Faraz to play with.
g. She walked across the road to see the park.
h. They went to the mosque to pray.

C PAPER LYING

Point out that the -ing verbs in the sentences are not the main verbs. The main verbs are saw, watched, could feel, heard, felt, etc.
The -ing verbs in these sentences tell us something more about the nouns that come immediately before them.
E.g. We watched them dancing.
They were dancing and not us (we). We watched. We watched them. We watched them (those who were dancing at the time).

1. Join these sentences in the same way.
   a. We watched them dancing.
   b. She could feel the rain falling on her face.
   c. Adil heard the tiger growling loudly.
   d. The fishermen felt the sun burning their backs.
   e. The children saw the elephant lifting a log.
   f. Can you hear the bells ringing in the church?
   g. Can you see the birds flying over the hills?

A delightful and most observant poem about how an old dog behaves while sunning himself on a porch.

Have the pupils ever noticed how animals behave? They can only know about something if they observe it properly. Ask questions about how cats, crows, sparrows, cows, and other animals behave—really behave.

A cow is standing in the street. What exactly is it doing? How is it standing? How does it move forward? How does it move its legs? Which legs does it use at one time—all four, the front two, alternate ones? How does it move its head? Does it move its ears and tail? In what ways? Is it eating something? What? How is it chewing? Does it chomp its food as we do, or does it move its jaws in some other way?

One does not need to be a scientist to answer all these questions. An observant person can answer them just as well.

Discuss the unfamiliar words. Ensure that the pupils understand the difference between ‘scratch’ and ‘itch’.

I have an itch, so I shall scratch it.
I have a scratch; it was made by the cat.

Suggestions and answers

A UNDERSTANDING THE POEM

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. The dog flapped its ears to get rid of a fly.
   b. The dog scratched itself on a spot that was itching.
   c. The dog dreamt about chasing a rabbit.

   These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   d. To rest, to keep warm, or because it was pleasant.
   e. iii. dreamy
   f. One is old and the other is young; the old one wants to lie down whereas the puppy was active.

2. Answer the questions about this line taken from the poem.
   He whimpered a bit
   a. The old dog whimpered. Whimper means to cry softly.
   b. No, there was not. The old dog whimpered from force of habit.
   c. This took place on a summer day when the dog lay dreaming on a porch.

3. Find all the rhyming words in the poem. Do they form a pattern?
   Ask the pupils to find all the rhyming words in the poem. The answers are given below.
   sun/run, fly/eye, spot/hot, habit/rabbit, sun/run
   Ask the pupils if the words form a pattern.
   Explain that the first two lines and the last two rhyme. There are three other rhyming couplets in the poem.
B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. With the help of a dictionary find the meanings of the following words.
   Pupils should look up the words, and then use them in oral sentences. All the words are connected with noises or actions made in complaint or dissatisfaction about something. However, they are each used in particular contexts, and have distinct meanings. Make sure the pupils write interesting sentences in which the keyword is used appropriately and helps bring out the meaning.
   a. whine: to cry, moan, or plead with a long, plaintive, high-pitched sound
   b. whimper: to make repeated weak, plaintive crying, or whining sounds of pain, distress, fear
   c. snivel: to sniff and whine tearfully, in a self-pitying way
   d. sob: to draw in breath while crying, making gasping sounds
   e. whine: to complain annoyingly or continuously about something (usually something seen as unimportant)
   f. groan: to make a long, low cry expressing pain or misery
   g. moan: to make a long, low sound that expresses pain or misery; to complain about something, especially unreasonably or needlessly
   h. grumble: to complain or mutter in a discontented way

2. Use the following in sentences of your own.
   The similes should be used with appropriate examples. What could be so smooth that it is described as being like butter? Is it a surface or something in motion? Is it something being spread like butter?
   How does something move when it is as quick as lightning? A person walking across a room as quick as lightning does not sound right. A person shooting across the room as quick as lightning is better because he is not walking but shooting across.

3. Look again at the similes above.
   Can you think of other ways to say the same thing?
   Pupils will make up their own comparisons. Discuss what they come up with, and see which words or phrases are more appropriate or startling than others.
   Which word gives the best mental picture of speed?
   —as quick as—a bird, a fox, a wink, a bullet, a meteor, the wind, a deer, a tornado, a greyhound, a rabbit, a racing car, an old man walking down the road

4. Try to put these in order of size from small to large.
   a. cottage, house, castle, palace
   b. baby, boy, man, giant
   c. mosquito, beetle, frog, mouse
   d. robin, owl, eagle, ostrich

5. Add an apostrophe to the words in the following, only where one is needed!
   a. not needed
   b. Let’s see if he lets us in.
   c. He’s signed the letter, Yours truly.
   d. It’s not standing up; it’s on its side!
   e. The hat is not hers: it’s yours.
C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

Discuss the text and give further examples of each type.

1. Say what kind of sentences these are.
   e. Command  f. Statement  g. Exclamation  h. Question

2. Write two new sentences of each pattern in your notebook.
   Pupils can write the headings: Statements, Questions, Commands, Exclamations, and write their own examples under each. Pick out any interesting examples to share with the whole class.

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. Pick one of the poems that you have read in this book...Try to write a short, simple poem with rhyming words.
   Make sure all the words are pronounced properly, and that the poem is read with some expression. Get them to discuss how to read the poem aloud. Where should they pause? Where should they change their tone?
   Encourage them to read a few lines of the poem out loud and take note of the advice: Make sure your voice is clear and that you pay attention to the punctuation and the mood of the poem. The other person should listen and give advice if needed. Take it in turns to read and listen.

2. Listen carefully and say these words aloud. Can you think of one more to add to each list?
   Pupils will come up with their own answers.

E COMPOSITION

1. Do you do anything from ‘force of habit’?
   There are many things pupils will do from force of habit: from waving a sleepy ‘hello’ to parents in the morning, to saying ‘good night’ before going to bed. Greetings are often made ‘from force of habit’. When we wish someone a good night, quite often we do not think about the expression and do not really consider whether the person really will have a good night. Nibbling foods such as chips, nuts, and mixture, while watching television, is often done from force of habit. Putting on one's clothes (especially a uniform) in the morning is done from force of habit. We yawn from force of habit. We have other eccentricities. Pupils will, no doubt, have some more interesting and strange habits to talk about.

2. Opinion
   With the help of the given framework, guide the students in writing an opinion on what their favourite season is.

Workbook:

A KINDS OF SENTENCES

Oral: Make a statement or ask a question, and ask pupils to tell you what kind of sentence it is. You could turn this into a game with two teams guessing whether you have made a statement, exclamation, question, or command. Pupils should answer in turn, so that all get a chance to take part.

1. Talk about the kinds of sentences.
   Review the examples with the pupils.

2. Talk about the pictures below.
   Discuss the pictures and the lines below each picture. You need not restrict your discussion to what is being said by the characters. What do the speakers look like? What kind of people are they? Whom might they be addressing their comments to? Why? In what circumstances would such comments be made?

3. Look at the pictures and sentences on page 59. Say what kind of sentence each one is.
   f. Statement  g. Statement  h. Question  i. Command

4. Write your own sentences here.
   The pupils will write their own sentences. Examples:
   a. Statements: I am very angry. My name is Mr Basit. My hair is falling out.
   b. Questions: What is your name? Where do you live? How old are you?
   c. Commands: Go away from here. Keep your goats out of my field. Don’t shout like that.
   d. Exclamations: Oh, what a lovely dog that is! Help, my house is on fire! Quick, call the police!

Workbook:
The test covers textbook and workbook units 6–9.

A UNSEEN COMPREHENSION

1. Read the letter aloud to your teacher.
   Pupils should also read the address. Note how they read out numbers and the date.

2. Answer the following questions about the letter.
   a. He travelled a week before 24 November 2017.
   b. The conductor was rude to Mr Rizwan after Mr Rizwan complained that someone was sitting in his seat. The conductor told Mr Rizwan to sit at the back of the bus or to get off.
   c. Mr Rizwan got wet in the bus shelter while waiting for the bus. The roof had holes in it.
   d. i. The bus broke down.
      ii. The video was faulty.
      iii. The bus service was not even ‘Third Class’.
   e. The company’s name was the ‘Friendly Bus Company’ and Mr Rizwan felt that it was far from friendly.

3. Mr Rizwan complains about many things in his letter. Make a list of at least six of his complaints.
   a. The bus left 40 minutes late.
   b. No reason was given for the delay.
   c. Passengers had to wait in the rain because the bus shelter had holes in the roof.
   d. The conductor was wrong to give someone Mr Rizwan’s seat.
   e. The conductor was very rude.
   f. The bus broke down.
      (Other complaints: Mr Rizwan was not given an explanation; the video was too loud and the speaker failed; the video stopped working.)

B TEXTBOOK QUIZ

1. Give short answers to these questions.
   a. A princess took some cocoons out of China by hiding them in her elaborate hair style. (The Story of Silk)
   b. It lay in the sun, flapped an ear, winked, scratched itself, dozed, whimpered. (Sunning)
   c. A little boy, just like himself. (My Playmate)
   d. i. bamboo  ii. string  iii. newspaper (The Flying Machine) (l)
   e. Peeps
2. Give complete answers to these questions.
   a. He helped them by reading them the letter and then by teaching them to read and write.
   b. The woodcutter upset the tiger by telling him that his skin stank.
   c. She was lonely and homesick.

C WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Write opposites of the following:
   a. light b. smooth c. wet d. cheap

2. Add apostrophes where necessary.
   a. She's my sister's friend.
   b. Let's see if he lets us go early.
   c. They've written their addresses wrong.
   d. It's not yours; it's hers!

3. Write two rhyming words for each of the following.
   Pupils will use their own words. Examples:
   a. strong wrong/song/gong/long
   b. taking baking/making/waking/raking
   c. training raining/staining/caning
   d. mellow fellow/yellow/bellow

4. Write any proverb that you know.
   Pupils will choose their own. (A stitch in time saves nine. Too many cooks spoil the broth. etc.)

D LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. In your own words, say what a conjunction is. Give two examples.
   A conjunction is a word that joins other words or sentences.
   Examples: and, but, yet, so, though, or, till, etc.

2. Use the correct form of the verb given in brackets, and complete the following.
   a. are taking b. brought c. carried d. left (has left) e. swam, swims

3. Correct the mistakes and re-write the sentences.
   a. He has written a letter to me every day this week.
   b. Mr Mouse has eaten up all the cake.

E COMPOSITION

Write two paragraphs about any of the poems you have read in your textbook. Describe briefly what it is about, then say why you like it.

Another adventure about two friends and a dog who make a railway journey at night. Ask the pupils if they remember any other adventures that they have read about. Ask the pupils to speak about journeys they may have made themselves by air, sea, train, car, or any other mode of transport. Were their journeys as exciting as this one? Did anything extraordinary happen? Can they make up their own adventure about a journey?

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. Saher and Razi were travelling to Lahore to stay with their friend Moiz.
   b. The boys spread their sheets on the bunks, ate their food while enjoying the cool night air blowing through the open window, watched the lights of the cars in the distance, and then settled down for the night.
   c. When the train stopped at the station, a man put his hand through the window and stole Razi’s wallet.
   d. Razi and Timmy chased the thief on to the platform. Razi told the stationmaster and some other men what happened, and just then they heard a cry from the railway yard. They climbed over the railings into the yard, and found that Timmy had trapped the thief.
   e. Saher pulled the (emergency) chain to stop the train. Pupils will give their own responses and reasons for the other two questions.

   This question is more difficult. Discuss it first.

2. Who said the following?
   a. Saher  b. One of the men  c. The stationmaster
d. Razi’s father  e. Razi  f. Razi (everyone)

3. Answer the questions about these lines taken from the story.
   The guard blew his whistle. Slowly, the train began to move. Everyone waved.
   a. To Lahore City Station.
   b. Razi’s father told Razi to be careful and not to do anything foolish. Razi’s mother told him not to stand near the door or to put his hands out of the windows. Saher’s sister told the boys to look after their money.
   c. They spread their sheets on their bunks.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Underline the adjectives given in the sentences below. Use them in sentences of your own.
   Pupils will make up their own sentences. Make sure the adjectives prepositions are used in the correct sense.
a. circular
b. blue
c. old
d. final
e. velvet

2. By 10 o’clock the boys were feeling quite sleepy. Write the times on these clocks in your book. Ask the pupils to look at the clocks given in the book and write down the time it is displaying.

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Read pages 85 and 86 again. Then divide the following sentences into their subjects and predicates.

   Pupils should first read the information and examples given in Exercise C. on page 86 of the textbook.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Predicate</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a. The boy</td>
<td>fell off his bicycle.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>b. The bicycle</td>
<td>was lying on the ground.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>c. The boy</td>
<td>was on the ground too!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>d. He</td>
<td>had hurt his arm.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>e. A man</td>
<td>took the boy to hospital.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. Join the sentences with the word who.

   Give further examples.

   a. Find me a man who is rich and brave.
   b. This is the teacher who taught my grandfather.
   c. This is the carpenter who made your chairs.
   d. This is the girl who came by bus.

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. Your teacher will read a poem aloud. Listen carefully. When you hear the name of a colour, mark it with a tick.

   Read the poem on page 133 of the Textbook aloud. When you have finished, ask the pupils to tell you how many words they have ticked on their lists. If the numbers don’t tally, read the poem again.

   The following colours are mentioned in the poem:
   red, brown, orange, pink, blue, grey, purple, black, yellow, cyan

   Do you know what all these colours look like? Do some research and find out.

   If possible, get a colour chart to show the pupils what the colours look like.

   Which word in the list above is not a colour?
   shade

2. Look at these pictures of a queue at a ticket office. What do you think is happening?

   Talk about the pictures.

   Instill in students the importance of making queues and forming lines. Discuss that breaking queues is bad and that we should patiently wait our turn. Then look at the pictures and guide students on how we can see a man breaking and entering a line out of turn.
E COMPOSITION

1. What did the boys tell Moiz when they arrived in Lahore? Write the story they told and draw a picture. You may write it as a dialogue (conversation) if you like.

   Pupils should write in the first person, that is, they should speak as Razi or Saher and tell their friend Moiz the story of their journey.

   You might ask them to start with something like this: Do you know what happened on our way here? Last night, we got on the train and...

2. Use the following words to write a short story. Work in groups to first think of what will happen in the story. Once you are done, check your work for spelling and punctuation.

3. Once you are done writing your story, see if you can identify the following elements in your tale.

4. Work in pairs. Ask a friend to read his/her story out loud to you. Can you identify the elements mentioned above in your friend's story?

   For the above questions, guide students in writing a short story based on the given words. Help them identify the given elements of a story and once they’re done checking for spelling or punctuation errors, have them read it out in class.

F ACTIVITY

1. 7:00 am–6:28 pm

2. Guide the pupils in drafting the text message. Start with an apology for the delay in the train schedule and then request Tipu to pick up Aslam from the train station at the new time.

PROJECT: AVOIDING BULLYING

Introduce the concept of bullying to the students. Inculcate in them that it’s bad behaviour to bully one another. Then read the given passage and discuss the outlined questions.

You might ask them to start with something like this: Do you know what happened on our way here? Last night, we got on the train and...

Workbook:

A WHO DID WHAT?

In this exercise, the passive voice has been used in sentences in the simple past tense. The verbs are past participles.

The pupils should do plenty of oral work before they attempt the written exercise.

1. Look at the picture. Read the sentences.

   Draw attention to the fact that the same idea can be expressed in two ways.

2. Here are some verbs and two sets of pictures (a and b). Use the two sets of pictures and the words in the box to make oral sentences of your own.

   Pupils should make up oral sentences. Ask questions about:

   The verbs—can they be used in sentences?

   Make a sentence with the verb ‘made’. (She made a noise in the class yesterday. My father made me a table. This watch was made in Switzerland.) Write some of the pupils’ sentences on the board. Highlight the verb used.
a. The first set of pictures—ask any questions about the things shown in the first three pictures. The idea is to elicit answers that use the words (made, shot, lost) in the box.

What is this? Yes, it’s a table. Who makes tables? A carpenter does.

What does a tiger do? It growls. It lives in the jungle. Do people hunt tigers? Who hunts tigers? What do hunters do to tigers?

What can you see in the third picture? A ring! It has a stone in it? Have you seen a ring like that before? Does your mother have a ring like that? Has she still got it? She hasn’t lost it, has she?

b. The second set of pictures—Who is this person? What is he doing? What do you think he does for a living? What is he making?

Explain that the pupils are expected to relate the verb in the box to the common noun illustrated in the first set of pictures. E.g.: The table was made. The tiger was shot. The ring was lost.

The second set of pictures provides clues as to who has performed the action. Point out that there are two ways of saying the same thing. E.g. The table was made by Mr Shah. Mr Shah made the table.

Now pupils can complete the written exercise on their own.

3. Match and write two sentences about pictures i., ii., iii., and iv. The first one has been done for you.

i. Mr Shah made the table.

The table was made by Mr Shah.

ii. Mr Hunt shot the tiger.

The tiger was shot by Mr Hunt.

iii. Mr Mouse ate the cheese.

The cheese was eaten by Mr Mouse.

iv. Mr Abdul caught the robber.

The robber was caught by Mr Abdul.

The other sentences that could be written in the pupils’ notebooks are:

v. Mr Baker baked the cake.

The cake was baked by Mr Baker.

vi. Mrs Ayub lost the ring.

The ring was lost by Mrs Ayub.

vii. Mr Ben wrote the book.

The book was written by Mr Ben.

viii. Rolly drove the car.

The car was driven by Rolly.

4. Match and write a sentence for each picture. Follow the example:

a. This is Mr Shah who made the table.

b. This is Mr Hunt who shot the tiger.

c. This is Mrs Ayub who lost the ring.

d. This is Mr Baker who baked the cake.

e. This is Mr Ben who wrote the book.

f. This is Mr Mouse who ate the cheese.

g. This is Mr Abdul who caught the robber.

h. This is Rolly who drove the car.
B HAS HE FINISHED?

In oral work you can introduce ‘I have just...’ by performing an action and then asking, ‘What have I just done?’ To get on to the matter on the page, ask a pupil to perform an action. ‘What has he/she just done?’ ‘He/she has just closed the door?’ Point out that ‘just’ implies that an action has been completed in the immediate past.

1. Write one sentence about each picture. Say what each character has just done.

2. Choose your verbs from the box given below. (Some of the words are not verbs!)
   1. Reema has just written a letter.
   2. Hamid has just left the house.
   3. Salim has just broken the glass.
   4. Najma has just bought an ice cream.
   5. Faraz has just picked a flower.
   6. George has just found his friend.

C EACH

1. Read the examples, then ask your own questions about the pictures.

   Oral: Questions beginning with, Has ..................?
   The use of each. Note that got may be used or left out.

   Has each house got a roof, a chimney, windows, a door?
   Has each cat (got) a long tail, a nose, paws?

2. Write questions and answers about these pictures.
   a. Has each boy a kite?
      Yes, he has.
      Each boy has a kite.
   b. Has each man a hat?
      No, he hasn’t.
      Each man hasn’t a hat.
   c. Has each girl a bag?
      Yes, she has.
      Each girl has a bag.
   d. Has each bottle a top?
      No, it hasn’t.
      Each bottle hasn’t a top.

Heidi is the story of a little girl who goes to live with her Grandfather - she has never met him before. He lives a simple life in the mountains of Switzerland. Slowly, Heidi and her Grandfather grow close and we can see this begin in this extract.

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. Heidi is five years old.
   b. An empty goat house and some tall trees.
   c. Inside, the ground floor is one big room. The grandfather's bed is in one corner. A large fireplace is in the middle of the back wall of the house. Next to it, there is a large cupboard with some shelves.
   d. Hay and old cloths.
   e. She could see right down the valley.
   f. A chair.

This question is more difficult. Discuss it first.
   g. He notices what Heidi needs, he makes her food, he gives her his chair as a table, he gathers more hay to make her bed more comfortable.

While reading: Pupils will give their own answers.

Challenge: Grandfather seems poor because he has so few possessions, simple things, and a small house.

2. Answer the questions about this line from the story.
   'It is the best I've ever had'
   a. Heidi.
   b. Her grandfather.
   c. Milk.
   d. She was thirsty after her long hot journey.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. What are these words? They are all from the story.
   a. cheese   b. grandfather   c. cupboard   d. breakfast

2. Find words in the story that have an opposite meaning to the words given below.
   a. hard   b. remembered   c. old   d. found   e. low   f. clever   g. up
C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Add conjunctions given in the box below to the following sentences.
   a. The boy was late but his sister was on time.
   b. We went because we were told to go.
   c. We have seen the film but we have not read the book.
   d. They heard that he was made a minister.
   e. They jumped when he shouted.
   f. She was let in although she was ten minutes late.

2. Match A with B to make complete sentences.
   Discuss the exercise with the children first.
   You will have to work hard if you want to learn English.
   We shall all get very wet if it rains.
   We shall have to walk home if the bus doesn’t come.
   You may hurt yourself badly if you fall off your bicycle.

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. Read and listen to the pronunciation of the words below. Note the sound of ow. Be careful!
   Read out the list of words. First ask the pupils to make two columns in their notebooks and write down the headings ‘ow for cow’ and ‘ow for low’. They can write the words in the appropriate boxes as they hear the words.

2. In your notebook, try to sort the words into two lists.
   Note that some of the words may go into both lists. (These have been italicized below.)
   Cow: bow, how, row, now, sow, gown, crown, clown, drown, fowl, brown, frown, shower, trowel, brow, growl
   Low: bow, row, tow, show, snow, stow, bowl, shown, throw

3. Use these expressions in sentences of your own and practise saying them aloud. Work with a classmate.
   Discuss the examples of contractions. Pupils will compose their own sentences. Check that they make sense.

E COMPOSITION

1. Write a letter to your friend. Describe a visit to someone’s house. Tell your friend about the house and why you visited it.
   Pupils should use the regular format of a letter, but the letter is to a friend, so it can be informal.

2. If the girls can do it, then the boys can too! Rewrite the paragraph above but change the character of Heidi into a boy. You will need to change a lot of the pronouns and you can choose your own name for the character.
   Guide the pupils in writing down their paragraph. Check for spelling or punctuation errors once done.
Workbook:

A  IF YOU CAN

Oral: If X happens, then Y will happen. Use some practical examples, before the pupils write sentences.

If I drop this glass what will happen? If you drop the glass it will break.

If the glass breaks what will happen. The water will go on the floor.

1. Make suitable sentences.
   Pupils may write the joined sentences in their notebooks.
   a. If you are tired, go to bed.
   b. If you are thirsty, drink some water.
   c. If he breaks his leg he will go to the hospital.
   d. If they don’t eat, they will starve.
   e. If she drops the plate, it will break.
   f. If it rains, you will get wet.
   g. If we look for it, we will find it

2. Use a picture and words given below to make sentences. Begin each sentence with If.
   The form for the picture + phrase is:
   ‘If I borrow/take/use an umbrella,…’ etc.
   Variations are possible.
   a. If my father buys me a bicycle, I can ride to school on it.
   b. If I borrow an umbrella, I won’t get wet.
   c. If I had a pen, I could write a letter.
   d. If I buy a radio, I can hear the news.

B  DRAMA

1. Look at the pictures. Give the characters names. Tell the story.
   Talk about the pictures and discuss what the people could be saying to each other. Pupils will come up with different wording and ideas.

2. Look at the pictures on page 72.
   Write what you think the people are saying to each other.
   Pupils will write their own responses.

Discuss the behaviour of the two animals and what makes them similar and different. Talk about the message of the poem, as expressed in the final stanza of the poem. Note the rhyming scheme and rhythm of the poem: a, b,c,b,d,e,f,e and five beats per line. Who is the narrator? Discuss any unfamiliar vocabulary.

Suggestions and answers

A UNDERSTANDING THE POEM

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. No.
   b. A person watching the animals from inside their house.
   c. They are collecting food. Magpie: berries; Squirrel: nuts. Both collect bugs.
   d. Little bugs.
   e. ‘Ha, it’s my garden!’
   f. ‘Hey, don’t take my snack.’
   g. Fight, arguing, squabbling, bicker.

   These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   h. The person wonders why the animals’ bicker.
   i. The two animals are different because Magpie loves berries and flies while Squirrel loves nuts and runs.
   j. They both like bugs, collect food and fight with each other.

2. Answer the questions about this line from the poem.
   I watch and I wonder:
   Why must they bicker?
   a. Squirrel and Magpie
   b. To argue over minor problems.
   c. Making noises.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Use the words is, am, are, was, and were to fill in the blanks.
   a. are;am
   b. are;am
   c. were;were
   d. were;were
   e. is;is
   f. is;is
2. Below are some words taken from the poem. Sort them into the right category.
   - Noun: squirrel, berries, bugs
   - Adjective: little
   - Verb: bicker, shouts, plucked

3. Use the following in sentences of your own. Be careful; the meaning changes when the words are split!
  Discuss the difference in meaning between the pairs of words.
   - E.g.: When we went to the principal's office, nobody was there.
     - There was no body in the room, although the man said he had seen one on the floor.
     - Somebody left a package for you outside the front door. It is a large package: do you think it is some body? Ugh!
     - Anyone can do these sums, because they are very easy. If I show you any one, you will solve it in a second.
   Pupils will write their own sentences.

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Here are some useful verbs. They have special uses. Read them aloud and make your own sentences.
   Pupils should try to make up sentences with these. Go through the text with them, and ask them to use the expressions in sentences after the meaning has been explained and discussed.

2. Write sentences of your own, using the verbs above.
   Pupils will write their own sentences.
   Discuss this with further examples. Use verbs transitively: played cricket, shot targets, helped the poor, sent parcels, posted letters, ran races, made chairs, built cities, painted pictures, threw pebbles...

3. Find the objects of the verbs in the following sentences.
   - a. The squirrel eats nuts.
   - b. The old man built a new house.
   - c. My father killed a very large cockroach.
   - d. My uncle lost an extremely valuable watch.
   - e. The farmer caught the chicken.
   - f. Eat your vegetables!
   - g. She shouted at the Magpie in the garden.
   The verbs are in italics, while the objects are underlined.
   For your information:
   Note that some verbs do not take an object. They are intransitive.
   E.g.: sleep, come, laugh
   We do not sleep something or come something or laugh something.
Other verbs can be transitive as well as intransitive:
E.g.: run, dance, play

The boys ran. They run a club in the evening.
The girls danced. They danced a tango.
Children play in the park. They play football.

Some verbs are transitive; they can only be used with an object.
E.g.: have, blame, name

They have a house. She blames me for everything. He named the day.

You may discuss in general terms how verbs operate, but there is no need to use the grammatical terms just yet.

4. Give further examples on the board. The ‘which’ clause modifies or describes the noun in the sentence. E.g.: The pen is described as being the one ‘which I sold to you last week.’

Join the following sentences using which.
a. This is the pen which I sold to you last week.
b. This is the letter which I sent to my mother.
c. This is the rice which I bought yesterday.

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. All these words contain the letter z. What are they?
a. buzzing  b. zebra  c. zoo  d. lazy  e. razor

2. Note the sound of s in the following. Say the words aloud, and listen carefully to the sound.
Dictate the words. Ensure that the words are pronounced correctly.
Like z: cosy, daisies, sizes, roses, pose, please, rise
Like s: toast, misses (final s is like z), mouse, sausage, sample, mass, safe, rust Silent: island
Like zhe: television, measure, leisure
Like sh: sugar

3. Work with a classmate. First sort the words into groups, one for each sound. (How many groups can you make?) Then try to add words to the groups. Say the words aloud a number of times to make sure you have put the words in the correct groups.
See above.

E COMPOSITION

Write about a time when you showed determination.

Let them write about it, then listen to what they have written.

Workbook:

A SUBJECT, VERB, AND OBJECT

Recall work done on subject and predicate in ‘The Story of Silk’. Briefly go over the exercises done there.
1. Divide the following sentences into subject and predicate, and write them in the table given below.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Predicate</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a. Nobody</td>
<td>came to see me yesterday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>b. Everybody</td>
<td>was having a tough time during the storm.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>c. Our neighbours</td>
<td>are building a new garage.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>d. His name</td>
<td>was printed on the front of the book.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>e. Their nephews and nieces</td>
<td>will be at the wedding.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Discuss the explanation and examples given.

2. Underline the verbs in the following sentences. Remember that a verb can be more than one word, for example, is dancing.

Explain that the smaller words, which form part of the main words, are helping the main verb. (These are called auxiliary verbs, but you do not have to mention this now.)

a. The children danced and sang.

b. His parents are coming here tomorrow.

c. The carpenter is making a table.

3. Find the verbs in the following, then divide the sentences into subject, verb, and object, and write them in the table.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Verb</th>
<th>Object</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a.</td>
<td>failed</td>
<td>the pupil.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>b.</td>
<td>visited</td>
<td>the city.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>c.</td>
<td>painted</td>
<td>a picture.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>d.</td>
<td>stayed</td>
<td>with his cousin.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>e.</td>
<td>flew</td>
<td>into the classroom.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

B ASK AND TELL

Oral: Some practice with the use of ‘ask’ and ‘tell’. Changing direct speech to indirect or reported speech. Note how the tense changes: ‘is’ becomes ‘was’. Note also how the pronouns change: ‘your’ becomes ‘his’ or ‘her’.

1. Read the sentences and talk about the pictures.

Ask questions:

a. What has happened? Did the girl have a fall? Who is coming towards her? Why? What does the girl say to the man? Do we know her exact words?

b. How did the man hurt his hand? Do you think he was involved in the accident?

2. Fill in the blanks.

a. The man asked the girl to (kindly) get some water.

b. The girl told the man his hand was better.

3. Change the sentences below.

a. I asked him (politely) to give me a pencil.

b. I asked him to tell me a story.
c. He asked me to write to him.

d. She asked me to drink it quickly.

e. I told Sajid (that) his face was turning red.

f. I told Irfan (that) his beard was growing long.

g. I told John (that) his car was in the garage.

h. I told Nida (that) her cat was in my garden.

A play in two parts. The dialogue is limited, because space is limited. Ask the pupils to start thinking about what else the characters might say. After reading the second part they will be asked to introduce some fresh characters and more dialogue, so it is a good idea to get them thinking on those lines now.

All the pupils should get a chance to read some of the dialogue, so change the players frequently or read the play through a number of times with a different set of readers. Ask the pupils to try and be the characters, and think and speak like them, not just read the words.

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. The Nawab entered the small house because it had been raining and he was wet.
   b. The three sons did not write letters because they could not write and their parents could not read.
   c. A regiment is a unit of soldiers in the army.
   d. Rain.
   e. The couple grew some wheat and onions on their land.

   This question is more difficult. Discuss it first.

   f. The farmer and his wife were kind enough to invite the traveller into their home, make him comfortable by their fire, and give him food, although they had very little.

   While reading: He was. The couple thought he was ‘great and good’.

   Challenge: The Nawab was proud of his cavalry because the riders and horses were the best that could be found in his kingdom.

2. Answer the questions about these line from the story.

   How can I tell whether those people who are poor are also happy?
   a. The Nawab asks this question.
   b. The Wazir is asked this question.
   c. ‘You cannot, sire.’
   d. The Nawab dresses himself in the robes of a traveller, with a worn cloak over his shoulders and a bundle on his back, and walks through his kingdom for many months.

3. Match the following.

   The Nawab of Salimabad was a very great man.
   He travelled for many months.
   He wore a cloak over his shoulders.
   Cover yourself with this blanket.
B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Choose the correct words from the box to complete the sentences.
   All the missing words begin with wa; see if you can find them in a dictionary.
   a. walking  b. war  c. wasted  d. waiter  e. wail

2. Write the opposites of the following words. You will find the words in the play.
   a. warm  b. well  c. proud  d. well

3. Write words with the same meaning as the following. You will find the words in the play.
   a. angry  b. terrible  c. finally  d. comfortable  e. manage  f. enjoyment

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

A revision exercise of comparatives. Please do suggest other words and get the pupils to use them in sentences with ‘than’.

1. Fill in the blanks in the following by changing the words in brackets, and sometimes by adding a word too.
   a. Gold is heavier than paper.
   b. This book is more interesting than that one.
   c. Is eating better than sleeping?
   d. Is stealing worse than hurting people?
   e. Is a poem more beautiful than a picture?

2. Add articles in the blanks below. (Not all the blanks need to be filled!)
   Once upon a time there lived an ugly miser. He was a very rich man and he grew (-) oranges and (-) apples. He sold them in the market. One day I asked him for an apple. He said, ‘I can’t give you an apple, but I’ll sell you (-) one.’ ‘Then give me an orange,’ I said. I put the fruit in my bag and walked off down the road.

3. Complete the chart using the correct form of the verbs.
   The table shows, of course, the simple present tense, the simple past tense, and the past participle.
   If pupils have to ask what to do, then they have not grasped this yet, so give them other verbs to put into a similar table! Pupils should also get additional practice in using the words in the third column (the past participles). E.g.: The food was eaten, the fight was begun, the horses were ridden, etc.
   a. catch caught caught
   b. begin began begun
   c. fall fell fallen
   d. ride rode ridden
   e. send sent sent
   f. give gave given

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

Read the words aloud. Note the sound of the letters au.
   Pupils can practise saying the words aloud.
   More au words:
   applaud, applause, aquanaut, assault, astronaut, auction, audience, August, auto, author, autograph, caught, cause, caution, daughter, default, dinosaur, exhaust, fault, fauna, fraud, gaudy, haughty, haul, haunt, jaundice, jaunty, launch, laundry, maul, naught, naughty, nausea, paunch, pauper, pause, sauce, saucer, taught, vault

Watch out for the pronunciation of these: they are all different. Check in a dictionary for the pronunciation.

aunt (draught, laugh), authority, because, gauge, mauve

E COMPOSITION

Who did the Nawab meet on his travels around his kingdom?

Write about some of the people he might have met.

Thinking about this and writing about characters the Nawab may have met on his travels will give the pupils some ideas of characters to introduce in the play (in the next lesson).

Workbook:

A MORE VERBS

Irregular verbs.

Oral: Use some verbs which are not used on the page for oral examples. Use the verbs in sentences.

If the children have a problem with the table, give them a sentence such as: The boy____ in his book yesterday (draw). The picture was_____ by Lubna (draw). Pupils will write drew and drawn respectively.

Some additional irregular verbs:
arise (arose, arisen), awake (awoke, awakened/awoken), bear (bore, borne), begin (began, begun), bite (bit, bitten), blow (blew, blown), break (broke, broken), drive (drove, driven), grow (grew, grown), mean (meant, meant), ring (rang, rung), .... and many more.

1. Can you fill in the missing verbs?
   draw drew drawn throw threw thrown get got got mistake mistook mistaken hold held held think thought thought win won won wear wore worn know knew known fly flew flown bring brought brought drive drove driven

2. Choose two set of words from the table above. Make sentences like this.

Pupils may be asked to write more sentences in their notebooks.

B VERBS, OBJECTS: REVISION

Ask questions after the children have identified the verb, e.g. Daniyal did what? The second part on spelling and syllables will need a lot of oral work. Emphasize the syllables in words with two or three syllables, e.g., ta-king, get-ting.

1. Write the verbs on the right. Write the object (if there is one) in brackets.
   a. caught (the ball)       b. chased (the deer)       c. danced (-)
   d. was walking (-)       e. are playing (-)       f. ate (the straw)
   g. saw (a film)           h. forgot (the address)     i. makes (knives)
C SPELLING
Practise breaking up some longer words in syllables.

1. Split the words and write the number of syllables.
   a. hit (1)       b. pat (1)       c. go/ing (2)       d. run/ner (2)
   e. for/e/ver (3) f. dig/ging (2) g. al/ways (2) h. to/ge/ther (3)
   i. ter/rib/ly (3) j. in/de/pen/dent (4) k. sa/tis/fac/to/ry (5)

Suggestions and answers

A COMPREHENSION

1. Answer the following questions.
   a. The Commander of the cavalry was ordered to bring the three sons to see the Nawab.
   b. The three sons felt proud to serve the Nawab.
   c. The farmer’s wife gave a basket of onions to the Nawab. She wanted to thank the Nawab.
   d. The old lady received a box full of gold coins as a present.
   e. The moneylender did not get a valuable present; he got a box of onions.
   These questions are more difficult. Discuss them first.
   f. The Nawab sent the boys home to look after their parents.
   g. A great man and a good ruler.

   While reading: He was a greedy man.
   Challenge: The moneylender gave the Nawab a horse because he thought the Nawab would be pleased with the gift and would give him a better present.

2. Complete the following sentences in your own words.

   Pupils will complete the sentences in their own words. Make sure the sentences are interesting. NOT
   b. ‘Your onions are good,’ said the Nawab. BUT, better, ‘Your onions are the best I have ever tasted,’ said the Nawab.

3. Answer the questions about these lines taken from the story.

   A businessman, sire. Yes, a businessman. I have brought you a gift.
   a. The moneylender
   b. To the Nawab
   c. The moneylender nearly tells the Nawab that he is a moneylender, then when the word is half out, he stops. He realizes that the Nawab will think if he is a moneylender, he has plenty of money. So he changes the word to businessman and repeats it to make sure the Nawab has heard properly.
   d. He has brought a horse because he thinks the Nawab will then give him an even more valuable present in return.

B WORKING WITH WORDS

1. Fill in the blanks with one of the words given in the box.
   a. hum b. howl c. neigh d. hiss e. trumpet
2. Add not to the following sentences. You may have to make some other changes too.
   a. The Wazir did not talk to the woman.
   b. The moneylender did not travel home.
   c. The old woman does not wish to see you.
   d. You did not say they were good onions. (You said they were not good onions.)

C LEARNING ABOUT LANGUAGE

1. Complete the chart using the correct form of the verbs.
   a. get got got
   b. see saw seen
   c. find found found
   d. come came come
   e. shake shook shaken

2. Use suitable adverbs in place of the underlined words.
   a. badly b. easily c. bravely d. quickly e. hurriedly.

D LISTENING AND SPEAKING

1. Group work
   Give the three boys (or any other characters in the play) some more lines to say and write the dialogues.
   Pupils should discuss their ideas in groups and then write their dialogues.

2. Share your work with the other groups in the class by reading aloud what you have written.

3. Which group added the most interesting lines?
   Pupils to enlist the help of others if there are more parts than members in the group, and read out their dialogue.
   Ideas from all the groups can be incorporated into longer and more detailed scenes which the class can act out at a later stage.
   Take a vote as to who wrote the best initial dialogue, and write the results on the blackboard.

Workbook:

A IMPORTANT ADVERBS: EITHER AND NEITHER

Before pupils begin work on this page, draw a box on the board. Ask questions similar to those in the exercise:
‘Is that a box?’ ‘Is that a trunk?’ ‘It is either a box or a trunk.’ (Emphasize the either/or.)
Then draw another box on the board. Ask the same questions:
‘Is that a box?’ ‘Is that a trunk?’ ‘It is either a box or a trunk.’
Now add a roof and a door and say:
‘It is neither a box nor a trunk. It is a house!’
You can do another drawing-two long parallel lines which look like a road. It is either a road or a river. It is neither. Turn one end into a tail and the other into a head. It is neither a road nor a river, it is a snake.
What are the boys saying?
Discuss the picture and read what the children are saying. Having read the first part of the exercise, explain that either is used when two alternatives are possible.

1. Fill in the blanks. Use either...or or neither...nor.
   a. That snake is either sleeping or it’s dead. I don’t know which.
   b. This dog is neither Sami’s nor is it Raheel’s. I think it is Ali’s.
   c. Neither Thomas nor Naveed came to school yesterday.
   d. The test is either going to be easy or difficult. I don’t know which.
   e. This desk is either Khalid’s or Adil’s. I don’t know whose.

B DIRECTIONS

Oral work first. It would help, at some stage, if the pupils copy the map, or a large one is made for the display board. More features can be added to the map, and the pupils can then have more practice in giving directions.

1. Look carefully at the map and the symbols below. Can you find all the symbols on the map?
   Ask the pupils to study the map and the symbols. Then ask where things are on the map. Before the pupils begin to do any written work, ask them to give directions on how to get from the bus stand to Zehra’s house. A number of routes can be taken to her house (some a long way round). The directions should be short and simple. After they have practised this orally, they can go on to the written work.

2. Answer these questions.
   a. Fahim lives north of the river.
   b. Ali lives west of the bus stand. (So does Nadia.)
   c. Nadia lives north of the hospital.
   d. Zehra lives south of the mosque. (So does Ali.)

3. Look carefully at the map on page 81. Read the text below.
   Ask pupils to trace the route with a finger while the directions are being read out.

4. What directions will you give?
   Pupils will write their own versions, and probably much shorter ones than the examples given below.
   a. From the bus stand to Nadia’s house.
      There are two ways of getting from the bus stand to Nadia’s house.
      1. Come out of the bus stand on to the main road. Turn right and go to the crossroads. Turn right at the crossroads, going past the bank on your right. Take the first road to the right. Go past all the houses on the right side of the road; pass a road on the left and another on the right. When you get to the crossroads, turn left. Nadia’s house is the second building on the right.
      2. Come out of the bus stand and turn left. Follow the road, passing two roads on your right. When you reach the main junction, with the bridge on your right, turn left. Nadia’s house is on this road. It is the second house on the right, after you pass the crossroads.
   b. From the bus stand to Fahim’s house.
      Leave the bus stand and turn left. Walk down the road and take the second road to the left. Walk to the roundabout (circle) and take the first road to the right. Cross the bridge over the river. Fahim’s house is the first house on the left, after you cross the bridge.

Start by talking about poems. Talk with the students how they may have noticed that the last words of the poems are almost always rhyming. Give them a few examples:
Twinkle, Twinkle, little star
How I wonder what you are Up above the world so high
Like a diamond in the sky!
Inform the students that just like in the poem, they will be creating new rhyming words.
1. Ask any one student to pick any part of the body.
2. Help them if they are having any difficult, for example: head.
3. Point to your head. Now inform them that you will say a few words and they will have to choose which of the words is the rhyming word for head.
4. Remind them that a rhyming word is the one which sounds like the original word.
5. Provide them three options: pen, red, fan.
6. Ask the students to pick any one which they think sounds most like head.
7. Encourage the shy students to answer.
8. Continue doing this with other parts of the body.
9. Once the students have understood the game, stop providing them the options and slowly ask them to come up with the rhyming words on their own.
10. If a student is unable to come up with a rhyming word, as a class help them. | Verbal response
